THIRTEEN ARRESTED

In Connection With the "Black Hand" Affair

COLUMBUS, O., June 10.—With activity in the round-up by federal officers of Italian extortionists in Ohio, extending to all parts of the state, Springfield, Ohio, today was drawn into the investigation.

After an all-night conference between postal inspector J. D. McFarland, Postmaster Cumm and secret service agents who examined the letters taken from the trunks of Sam Lima at Marion it was determined to send inspectors Fane and Harford to Springfield with instructions to arrest two Italians.

Already thirteen men have been arrested but four of these have been released. Four have been served with federal warrants, Lima, Rizzo and Bataglia of Marion and Venola of Columbus arrested here last night. All are charged with fraudulently attempting to extort money from John H. Anderson of Columbus.

Augustine Martelli, arrested Wednesday at Dennison is also charged with the same offense. He returned from Italy about two months ago. He is said to be the agent of the Lima blackmailers who relayed the letters from Marion demanding money from John Anderson. Before he left Dennison six months ago Martelli had been preceded to Italy by Barney Bonnet, a Dennison fruit dealer who said his store there was a scabber and had to escape black hand vengeance. Bonnet was murdered not long after his arrival in Italy. Soon afterwards Martelli who was in Italy at the time of the murder returned to America.

It became known today that Charles Storace, an Italian business competitor of Lima, at Marion, had received recently several threatening letters ordering him to leave town at once.

While the standard is placed at 12.5 the sample taken from Mr. Stockman's store showed that it contained but 10.09 solids and 1.3 butter fat. Mr. Stockman had purchased the milk but a week before the sample was taken and it was the opinion of the court that the poor quality of the milk was due to a large measure to the fact that through ignorance the clerk sold the milk without mixing the cream with the milk at the bottom of the can and after the top of the can had been sold the milk below the cream was of poorer quality. Stockman was fined $10. This is the first case in which Milk Inspector Melvin P. Master appeared.

James Smith, Boston, Drunk

Edward DeForge, a young man about 27 years of age, was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Annie M. Lapin. Annie testified that last Saturday when she went to visit the home of her parents in Cushing street she met the defendant and another young man drinking in the hallway. She said that he said "Hello sunflower" and then struck her in the mouth.

"What did he call you sunflower for," asked the court.

"To get me going I guess," was the response.

"To get you what?"

"Oh he wanted to make me mad."

DeForge denied that he called her "sunflower." He said that he called her "Smashline" whereupon she called him a name and made an attempt to strike him. He pushed her aside.

The court found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $5 which was paid.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE TRAGEDIES.

It is now believed that the insane outbreak by a butcher in the North slaughter house at Somerville last Saturday resulting in the death of five people and the serious injury of three others was brought on by the nagging by the man's fellow workmen. The nature of his work was sufficient to affect a weak mind, for he had the unpleasant occupation of sticking hogs sent to him on an overhead pulley, at the rate of one every few seconds. When to the effect of this gruesome work on a sensitive mind were superadded the gibes of fellow workmen, some idea may be had as to the cause of the unfortunate man's outbreak. There can be no question as to his insanity, however, for he killed his best friends which is the usual aim of violent maniacs. He may have some hereditary tendency to insanity, and if so, of course nothing was needed but some exciting cause to overthrow his mind.

THE SUCCESS OF THE RINGLINGS.

The five Ringling brothers whose circus appears here tomorrow have had remarkable success in the show business. Their career since boyhood has a valuable lesson for those who are looking for the main springs of success. One of the secrets of their success is, that they are men of brains. The next is that they have worked loyally together. Unfortunately it is far too seldom that five or six brothers cling together in one line of business as have the Ringlings. They got their first inspiration to enter the show business from seeing Obadiah Green's aggregation of "World Wonders" unloaded from a small show boat at the little town of McGregor, Ia., in 1874. In 1888 they started their first railroad show; in the nineties they began to excite the jealousy of the biggest shows on earth, and now they own those big shows, the Barnum circus and the Forepaugh and Sells, having secured what is undoubtedly the finest circus in the world.

It seems but a short time since the Ringlings were here with a one-ring circus, small to be sure but it had originality and organization that indicated the operation of superior management. Even that small show reflected the genius of the Ringlings.

Where there are five, six, seven or ten boys in one family it is a splendid idea for them all to embark in one business, not necessarily the circus business, for that field is well stocked at present, but manufacturing, or mercantile pursuits or even the business of publishing a newspaper. Too often it happens that large families of boys instead of uniting their efforts in one business, scatter in different directions, none of them accomplishing anything of importance. Had the Ringlings scattered thus their success would probably have been much less than it is today.

FOR THE PURIFICATION OF RIVERS.

All over this country there is a movement to prevent the further pollution of rivers and streams by making them the outlet for the sewage of cities and towns. This movement has been brought to the front by the state authorities in Ohio, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, Florida and other states for the purification of their principal rivers.

The state board of health of Massachusetts has been agitating the matter for some years with a view to stopping the pollution of the Merrimack and other rivers now used to carry the sewage of cities to the sea. Last year the question of purifying the Merrimack river came up in the legislature and was sidetracked through the influence of cities that would be put to a vast expense if prevented from emptying their sewers into the river. Report after report has shown the need of legislative action in order to bring about the purification of the Merrimack which in its course receives the sewage of Manchester, Nashua, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill together with that of a number of small towns scattered along the banks from Manchester to the sea.

Lowell is perhaps the one city most opposed to the legislation proposed for the purification of the river. Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport are in favor of the change in spite of the fact that it would entail considerable expense upon all of them. The expense they would have to incur, however, would not be nearly so great as that which would fall upon Lowell as a result of changing her system of sewerage.

Lowell seems to escape the bad results of the impurities of the river that are reported from other cities. We have no typhoid worthy of mention; while Lawrence has had several epidemics within the past decade. This, no doubt, is explained by the fact that Lowell has a water supply that is unexcelled for purity. It is drawn from driven wells, and there is no better water in the state. Lawrence on the contrary uses the river water after putting it through a process of filtration which, if we are to judge from the typhoid outbreaks, does not rid the water of its impurities.

The state board of health has been seeking the authority of the legislature to go ahead and adopt such measures as it may see fit for the purification of rivers, but thus far it has not been invested with that authority. It has made investigations that show very clearly and emphatically the necessity of some step to bring about the purification of the rivers in the interest of public health as well as for the pleasure and amusement of the people in the cities along the river banks.

Representative Conley of Lowell has introduced a bill in the legislature, the object of which is to make the state board of health merely an advisory body to the legislature in all matters pertaining to the purification of the rivers. Representative Conley's object, no doubt, is to prevent the adoption of any radical measure by which the city of Lowell might be called upon very suddenly to incur an expenditure of millions of dollars for the purpose of providing a means of disposing of the city sewage without emptying it into the river as at present.

It has been estimated by experts that it would cost two or three million dollars to establish a complete system of sewage reduction for this city. The matter of stopping the pollution of the Merrimack river is one that must be worked out gradually by the joint action of New Hampshire and this state inasmuch as both are equally interested in having the river water purified as they are equally responsible at the present time for its pollution.

The city of Lowell may as well get ready to meet this problem as best she can because it is certainly coming to the front and cannot be staved off more than another year at most if the health authorities of this and other states continue to agitate the subject as they have been doing for two years past. Unless we lag behind in the march of progress in public sanitation, the river must be purified and no city, much less the state of Massachusetts, can afford to adopt any unprogressive course in a matter so vitally affecting the public welfare.

THE BIG CIRCUS GREAT DAMAGE

Will Show in This City Done to the Canadian Tomorrow Canal

New York city was electrified when in March it had its first glimpse of Ringling Brothers' circus. Madison Square Garden was too small to hold the crowds that sought admission, and the newspapers said the performance was the best ever seen in Manhattan. Just as the show was presented there at the Garden it will be seen here tomorrow, not only in detail but in the public of the great metropolis of America.

The first of the five long trains bearing the circus is expected to arrive shortly after midnight. By seven to-morrow morning twelve acres of the city's real estate will be under canvas and the first of the greatest circuses of all times will be teasing in the breeze. The downtown ticket office will be located in the Ellingwood & Co's drug store, and reserve seats and admissions can be bought there all the day.

The new street parade is set for ten o'clock in the forenoon and it will pass over the usual route. It is the greatest street display ever made by the Ringling Brothers, the outfit having been made in the performance of the circus at Stoke-on-Trent, England. The entire world has contributed to the pageant and it is nearly three miles long.

There will be two performances here, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 o'clock at night, the night show being exactly the same as that of the afternoon. The program for the first of all times. Briefly stated, here is what will be seen: The Arthur Saxton troupe of strong men, any one of whom is stronger than was Samson; the Schumann Performing Horses, that drink from glasses, skip the rope and push each other around in immense herds; the "Felix" troupe of acrobats, who perform feats of gymnastics and balance; the "Robtello" troupe, the wonderful Spanish dancers; the "Clifford" troupe, the most interesting zoological garden in the world; a new opening spectacle and a performance of such striking proportions and such excellence as will surprise the warmest admirers of the circus.

SAULE STE MARIE, Mich. June 10. —All the weight of Lake Superior for the past night through the $1,000,000 Canadian canal built to carry vessels around the impassable rapids of the Saint Marie's river. The entire fall of approximately 20 feet is concentrated in the lock which was opened yesterday when the steamer Perry G. Walker of Chicago fleet, rammed her bow through the lower gate. The canal entered within its walls this evening a tremendous spectacle, including two water falls and a big whirl pool.

The upper gates were open when the Walker crashed open the lower gates and the tremendous power of the rapids was given instant play. The steamer Assiniboia, a Canadian Pacific passenger liner, moored within the lock chamber, was torn away from her moorings. Riding on the crest of the flood, she jammed the Walker from her path and her port anchor ripped a hole in the Walker's side. The liner's engine crew put on full steam ahead in a desperate endeavor to give the big vessel steepest way and with her wheelmen battling to overcome the swirling currents the Assiniboia swept into the open reaches of the river below. The Assiniboia's cargo shifted and several plates on her port log forward of amidships were loosened.

The Walker was whirled around several times and finally landed on a shoal out of the channel. It is said she is undamaged below the waterline.

The ore-laden steamer Crescent City of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, which was just entering the locks from Lake Superior, when the accident occurred, was swept down stream like a feather. She overtook the Assiniboia and struck the latter two glancing blows and after having a great hole torn in her side she swept past the broken lower gate. Tugs caught her and towed her to the American side, where she settled to the bottom.

Both the upper gates of the lock and one lower gate were wrenched from their moorings. The other gate still hangs to its fastenings, twisted and broken.

The loss to the Canadian government will probably reach $250,000, and the damage to the Crescent City is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the steamer Walker and Assiniboia was comparatively light.

Captain Mosher of the steamer Walker declares that the accident was caused by his engineer making a mistake and throwing his lever to "full speed ahead" on the captain's signal to "back up."

It is believed that the American locks are capable of carrying all the traffic under the present conditions of the shipping business.

WILLIAM GRAFF Optimistic Cripple Making Tour of World

William Graff, a cripple, is in Lowell and he wants you to assist him to go a place where he can find a cure for paralytic rheumatism. Of all the optimistic cripples that ever lived, William Graff, is probably the most optimistic of them all. He is now bound on a trip around the world in a wheel chair of his own invention and one that he made with his left hand. His right arm is useless as are his lower limbs, yet this man is as full of hope as though his health was the best.

William Graff was in this city about two years ago and we mentioned the fact in these columns with the result that he received generous assistance here. He has been a great sufferer from paralytic rheumatism and although he has had relief at different times it has always come back again. He is selling useful articles of his own manufacture. He is of cheerful disposition and has a smile for everyone. If you think he isn't enthusiastic about his trip 'round the world just ask him about it.

When he arrives in Germany he intends to take the treatment there but at any rate he will make the trip around the world. He expects to make the trip in seven years. He belongs in Chambersburg, Pa.

BITTER DEFEAT SUFFERED BY THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

YOUNGSTOWN, O. June 10.—Anti-saloon forces in Ohio suffered a bitter defeat when Youngstown, with $9,000 inhabitants, and the remainder of Mahoning county, voted a special election to retain the saloon. The vote in the city and county precincts was "Wet" 11,233; "Dry" 9,263. In the county where much was expected for the anti-saloon forces, only 768 majority was obtained.

Ten thousand persons packed the public square last night and cheered bullfights showing the partial election returns. The principal streets were made safe by processions of automobiles running at high speed and filed with cheering men. Chief of Police McDonald issued orders that all saloons be kept closed until this morning, and is keeping his entire force of 50 men on duty to prevent disorder.

GROCERS AND BUTCHERS The last meeting of the season of the Grocers and Butchers association was held last night in Builders' Exchange, President Fitzpatrick in the chair. A letter was received from Congressmen Butler Ames relative to the interurban street railway plans and favorable action was taken. A committee of three was appointed to attend a hearing to be held at the state house. The committee consists of Fred Fitzpatrick, John McCullough and David Gray.

A DAY EARLY THIS WEEK Four good old friends, the Fresh from the Oven Coconut Cakes, arrive from the coast of Brazil, as usual, a few days earlier than the regular date. They are packed in these chocolate, Samson and Russell's assorted, chocolate almonds, chocolate peppermints, assorted, nut and marshmallows all protected from heat and handling in any way, after leaving the factory. THE PRIZE DRILL

Of the United Boys Brigade

The prize drill of Company F of the Fifth Massachusetts Infantry, United Boys' Brigade was held last night at the First Trinitarian Congregational church in Dutton street. The vestry was well filled with members of the church and friends of the members of the company.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the company appeared on the floor. The members were attired in white negligee shirts and dark trousers. Capt. Chester E. Wheeler, attired in the uniform of a commissioned officer of the High School regiment, was in command of the company. The drill was given by George H. Upton and Claude Rier.

In the company drill the company was put through various movements. At the conclusion of the drill by the entire company a squad of 14 picked men was marched out on the floor and put through the prize drill.

The judges' work was difficult. The three men who decided the fate of the contestants were Sergt. Frank Hotchkiss and Corporals George Crowell and A. G. Miller of Company G of the Sixth Infantry, M. GAS BLOWN OUT

DR. PEARSON WAS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian for Pennsylvania, and head of the department of veterinary medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, was found overcome by illuminating gas yesterday at his home.

Physicians at the University hospital say that Dr. Pearson has a chance to recover, but are not so confident about his mother. Dr. Pearson arose in the night to assist his mother, who was ill. While waiting for some water to heat on a gas burner he sat in an arm chair holding her hand. Overcome by fatigue he fell into a doze and the wind blew out the gas.

ANOTHER MAN WITH A SYSTEM.

"YOU never follow my advice," his wife complained. "I don't see why you keep on asking for it."
"Well," this mean man replied, "you see, I couldn't always be sure of taking the right course if I didn't know which way you would rather not have me go."

MAKING HIS SODA GO A LONG WAY.

AN EARLY STORM.
"HAVE they returned from their honeymoon yet?"
"She has."

A CORNER CASUIST.

"You are no more blind than I am."
"Well, what's it to you?"
"What business have you wearing that card?"
"Just as much right as anybody. I don't say I am blind. This here is just an abstract proposition. See?"

A FLIRTATION

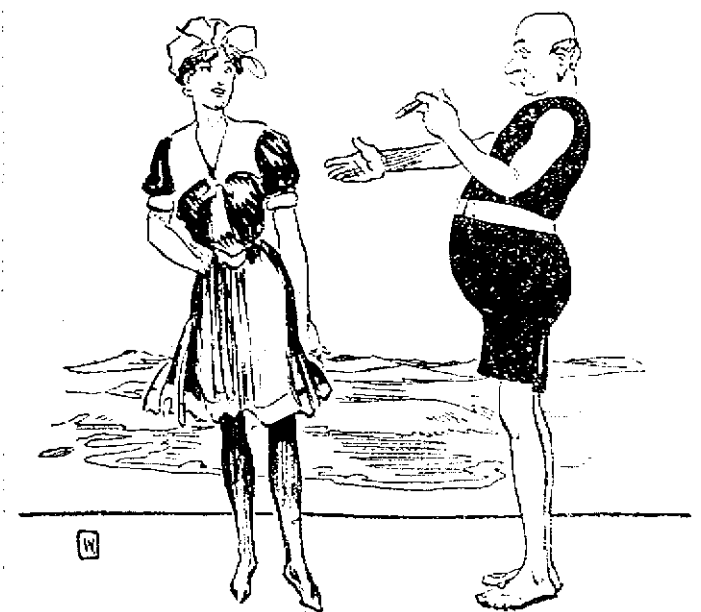

ENCOURAGING HIM.

GERALD—I wonder what you would do if I were to try to kiss you.
Geraldine—I'm glad that you have a thirst for knowledge at last.

OLD AND WISE.

HE—They say, you know, that two can live as cheap as one.
SHE—Yes, but I'm too old to try experiments.

NEEDED TEACHING.

"Can you swim, Mr. Brown?"
"Like a duck." Can you, Miss Jones?"
"Like a chicken."
"Come in; the water's fine."

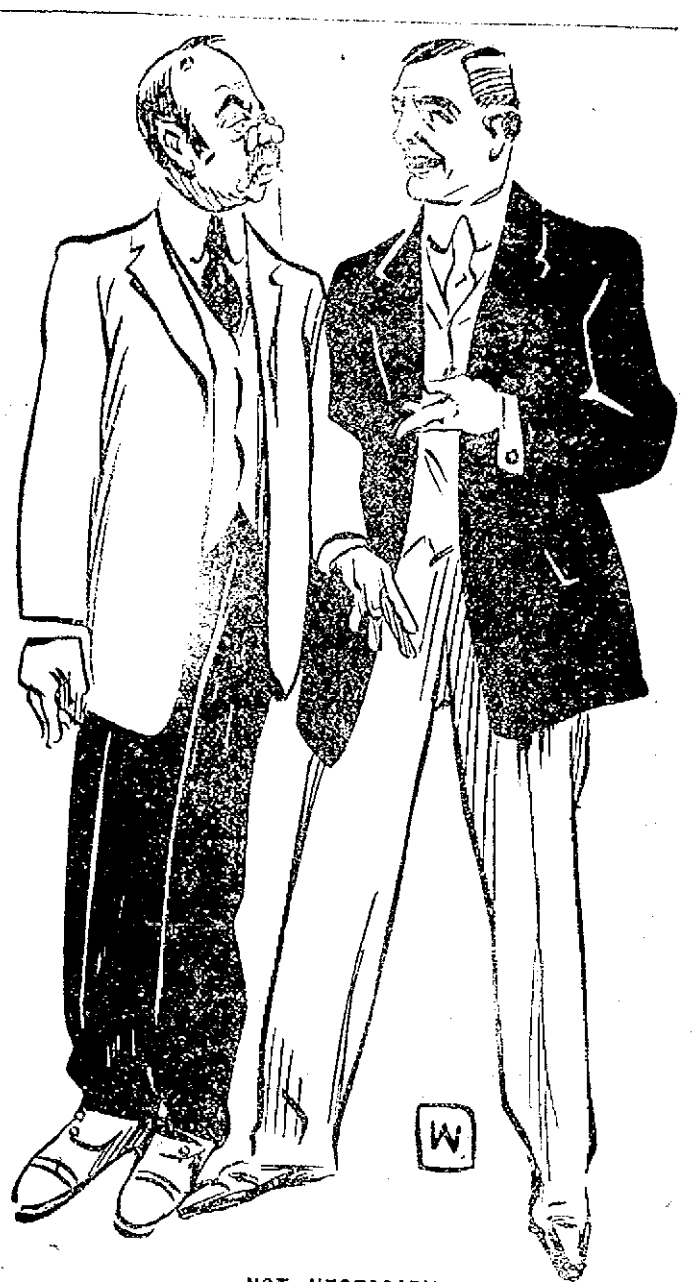

DID HE SEE THE POINT?

He (frightful boy)—Now, can I fetch you anything else?
SHE (sweetly)—Oh, thank you so much. I wish you would fetch me that tall, dark man I danced with before you and I had the last.

AN IMPRESSION.

"It is very difficult for a writer to make his words really felt," said the young man with the pensive manner.
"Yes," answered Miss Sweet, "that you have succeeded in doing so with me."
"Indeed?"
"A friend dropped one of your latest volumes the other day, and I was struck very forcibly."

NOT NECESSARY.

"No excuse will serve in this matter, sir."
"How fortunate!"
"Why fortunate?"
"Because I have none to offer. Thanks for not requiring any."

EASILY TRACED.

MOTHER—I wonder from whom you inherit your talent as a sculptor, dear.
Her Son—Must be from you, mother. I've often heard you say father was just putty in your hands!

VISIBLE AGITATION.

"SPEAKING of a labor agitation," began the lazy reporter, "the worst in my experience."
"Was when some one asked you to do some actual work, I suppose," broke in the city editor, who knew his man.

NOTHING NEW.

Charley Footlights: "Why, Wing! What are you doing away out here? What's afoot now?"
Wright Wing (between his teeth): "Our entire company."

WOULD SEEM SO.

"NO matter what you go to see a doctor about, he is bound to end on your lungs."
"How is that?"
"Well, he always makes you cough up."

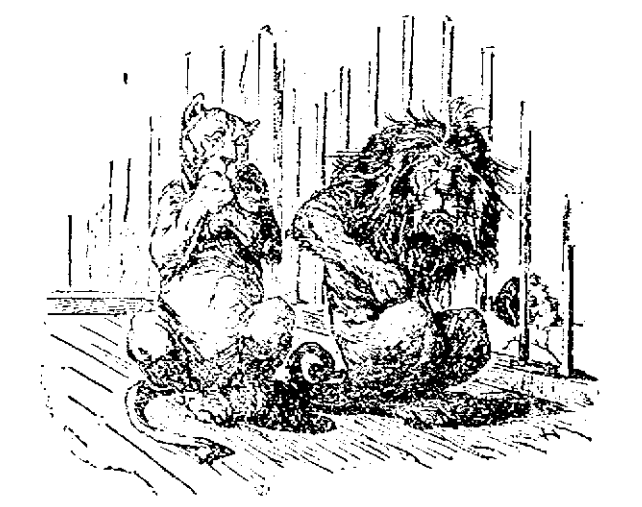

EVIDENTLY NOT.

"NO," said the leading man, "I never pay any attention to what the critics say."
"Ah," replied the dramatic editor, "then they have not been giving you favorable notices."

WHEN A GIRL.

Miss Sweet: "College graduates do not always marry."
Mr. Swift: "Well, when a girl has had a lot of money spent on her education it makes her awfully particular."

VERY POOR TASTE.

Lion: "This business makes me most awful sick lately."
Lioness: "What's the matter?"
Lion: "Oh, the man who puts his head in my mouth has struck a new brand of hair oil!"

EXTRA

SECRET SERVICE MAN

Secured Possession of Alleged "Black Hand" Letters

MARION, O., June 8.—Secret Service Officer Oldfield who arrested Sam Lima, a Marlon fruit merchant here, as a leader of the Italian "black hand" society has gone to Columbus, taking with him a trunkful of incriminating letters found in Lima's store. Some of the letters, all written in Italian, were decorated with skull and crossbones. Others contained threats. With Lima there were arrested here several other Italians. Four were later released but Samuel Rizzo and Sebastian Butaglio are held by the sheriff. The Pennsylvania railroad, in their trunks were found letters of the same character as the collection taken from the safe in Lima's store. The authorities are searching for Italians in the neighboring cities, who are suspected of implicitly in an extortion plot that has netted the band thousands of dollars in the past few months.

LOWELL BEHIND NEW PRESIDENT

Fall River Leads By Score of 1 to 0

There were about one hundred baseball enthusiasts at Washington park this afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. A new player in the person of Mickey Finn, formerly of the Northampton team of the Connecticut league appeared in a Lowell uniform and it is expected that Mickey will be a valuable addition to the local team. In the first inning he assisted in a double play and the first time he came to the bat he slammed the leather out for a two bagger. It was expected that President Murrane of the league would be in attendance at the game but he did not put in an appearance. Whitridge and Boyle were in the points for Lowell, while the battery for the visitors was composed of Leonard and Fisher. Empire McLaughlin acted as decision maker. Fall River scored a run in the first inning. Nichols drew a base on balls, a single by Messenger sent him to second and he scored on Bowcock's single. Up to the fifth inning there was no more scoring on either side. Lowell got a man on second and third twice but failed to score. Fall River made two double plays and Lowell made one during the first four innings, there being sharp fielding on both sides during the early part of the game.

BERLIN, June 8.—Geraldine Farrar replying to an inquiry concerning the report recently published that she was engaged to be married to Antonio Scotti, the singer, writes from Bad Kleber as follows: "You may deny all reports of my engagement or marriage. They are fabrications which long ago ceased to interest me."

MORE GRADUATES

Class of Eight Nurses Graduated Today

Exercises attending the graduation of eight nurses were held at the Lowell General Hospital, this afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock. The exercises were held on the green near the hospital, where seats were arranged in the open, and a tent where refreshments were served. The young women, dressed in white, presented a very pretty appearance and the exercises though simple were quite impressive.

Previous to the opening of the exercises the graduating class was photographed on the steps at the front entrance to the hospital. There was music by Hibbard's orchestra and the only thing to conflict in anyway with arrangements were the shower clouds that hovered above.

NARROW ESCAPE

Motorman Stopped Car in Time

Here's a word for the good work of Motorman J. Murphy. By good presence of mind and quick application of the brakes on a Vermont avenue car due in the square at about 1 o'clock, he saved a boy's life. While passing city hall a four-year-old boy started from the sidewalk to cross the street directly in front of the car. Motorman Murphy applied the brakes so suddenly that passengers pitched forward in their seats. When the car stopped the leader was brushing against the child's clothes. Women who saw the child start directly in front of the car screamed and men looked the other way, fearing that the little fellow's life would be crushed out beneath the wheels. But John Murphy was on his job and he saved the lad's life.

TONIGHT'S BOUT

O'Brien and Ketchell in Shape

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—With both men in fine shape and the bout limited to six rounds, hot action is anticipated tonight when Jack O'Brien and Stanley Ketchell meet in the ring at the National A. C. where John three weeks ago outpointed Dave Johnson, the negro champion. The fight is expected to be fast from the top of the song. The Philadelphia is anxious to wipe out the virtual knockout handed to him by Ketchell in the New York bout and the westerner hopes to make a better showing in this engagement than he did in his former bout with O'Brien.

230 LIVES LOST

Town Devastated by an Earthquake

PADANG, SUMATRA, June 8.—The town of Korinchi, 185 miles to the southeast of Padang, was devastated by an earthquake on the night of June 3-4. Two hundred and thirty people were killed and many others injured. The shock was accompanied by a tidal wave which swept away the native huts like rockshells.

GIFT FROM POPE

Beautiful Episcopal Cross

ROME, June 8.—The pope today sent to the Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, a beautiful episcopal cross of sapphires and diamonds on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his ordination. The gift was brought by the hand of Mgr. Brissan, the pope's private secretary, and accompanied by a cordial and flattering letter of congratulation. The archbishop has received many congratulations on this occasion.

AT NUPTIAL MASS

Wedding of Miss Anna M. Dempsey This Morning

One of the most beautiful of June weddings took place at St. Patrick's church, this morning when Miss Anna M. Dempsey, the charming daughter of the late Patrick Dempsey was united in marriage with Mr. William F. Harrington of Manchester, N. H., a most prominent Catholic family. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William O'Brien P. R., assisted by Rev. Joseph Curran and the marriage ceremony was followed by a nuptial mass at which the officiating clergyman was Rev. John J. McHugh, assistant pastor. The altar and sanctuary were attractively adorned with flowers and statuary. The happy couple were the recipients of a wealth of beautiful gifts. They left early in the afternoon by train on their honeymoon which will be enjoyed at the New York watering places. They will be at home at their new residence, 630 Beech street, Manchester, N. H., after September 1.

THE AUTO COURSE

Gone Over by the State Engineer

State Highway Engineer Pillsbury, Alderman William E. Badger, Supt. Fulham, of the street department, and President John O. Heinze, of the Lowell Automobile club, went over the Merrimack Valley course this afternoon for the purpose of determining what kind of oil should be used on the course, where it will be necessary to fill in and make other changes in order to make the course as smooth and safe as possible and at the same time not affect the property of the city of Lowell, town of Tuftsboro or the state highway. Mr. Heinze will leave Lowell tonight for the purpose of attending the meetings of the contest board, advisory board and board of directors of the A. A. A. to be held in New York tomorrow morning. It is expected that at these meetings final matters relative to the sanctioning of the race will be discussed and that when Mr. Heinze returns to Lowell Friday he will be able to report that the sanction has been granted.

THE ARGUMENTS

In the Law and Order Case

Arguments in the case of Rev. Chas. A. Merrill, former general secretary of the Lowell Law and order league against six members of the league: Rev. Mr. Craig, Rev. Mr. Ferrin, Rev. Mr. Dean, W. T. S. Bartlett, George W. Putnam and Mrs. E. W. Clark, were heard this afternoon by Judge Fisher in the civil session of the police court. Lawyer James E. Owens argued for the league and Lawyer John Leggett for the plaintiff. At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Fisher said that relative to the bill for forfeiture he would find in favor of Mr. Merrill. He set a value of $25 on the genealogical table and as to the other articles mentioned in the plaintiff's declaration those that were the property of Mr. Merrill which have not been returned will be.

HERBERT LATHAM

Has Been Flying in a Monoplane

PARIS, June 8.—The attention of the French aviators has been focussed of late on the doings of the young aeronaut, Herbert Latham, who has been flying at Mouchon-le-Grand in a monoplane. Following up his performance of three days ago when he made a flight of one hour, one minute and five seconds, Latham made a series of brilliant flights last evening in which his machine demonstrated considerable stability in the face of a fifteen mile breeze. He showed also general control and facility to change from one attitude to another. His height ranged from 13 to 30 yards. Latham's machine suggests a bird in the center and tapering into flexible fins designed to give stability. The space between the two layers of canvas is watertight and is calculated to insure safety should the machine fall into water.

BOSTON POLICE

BOSTON, June 8.—Any slurring comments by announcers on any sightseeing autos or guides when passing public buildings such as calling city hall "the home of the steel trust" have been forbidden by the police. Guides have been in the habit of making secular references while passing certain public buildings and some of their remarks in the opinion of the police have been insulting.

M. CHAUCHARD

Is Attacked by Socialist Newspapers

PARIS, June 8.—The socialist newspapers are conducting a campaign against the late M. Chauchard on account of the small sum he left the poor of Paris compared to the immense legacy he made to Madame Bourcier and they declare that her gift yesterday of $200,000 to the poor of the capital was a public demonstration of the selfishness of the bourgeoisie. The socialist papers invite the people to make a demonstration at the funeral of M. Chauchard which takes place tomorrow.

COMMON COUNCIL

Votes $20,000 for Purchase of Fire Apparatus

The common council at its regular meeting last night accepted in concurrence the recommendation of the committee on fire department for the appropriation of $20,000 for the purchase of new fire apparatus and fixtures.

The order authorizing the mayor to sign a release of the Huntington hall site was passed in concurrence. This matter was brought up on reconsideration by Councilman Kearns.

The latter is a member of the special committee appointed to look into the matter and at the meeting of the committee when it was recommended that the mayor be authorized to sign an instrument of release. Mr. Kearns was not present and he asked time to consider it.

Mr. Kearns said last night that he had looked into the matter thoroughly and was satisfied that it would be for the best interests of the city to release the site.

The petition from the Dutton street put in proper condition and that an extension of sidewalks be made in upper Dutton street, were referred to the committee on streets. A petition from W. T. S. Bartlett, asking for compensation from the city for a grave back in the cemetery, was referred to the committee on claims.

Petitions asking for the repair of sidewalks in Dutton street were referred to the committee on streets. Other minor matters were referred to proper committees.

FOUGHT A DRAW

Tommy Quill Surprised the Sports

The welterweight championship of the world is still in doubt and some 600 Lowell fans returned home last evening taking long breaths over the narrow escape they had from seeing their favorite go down in defeat and their hard earned money flying away to New York.

The 12-round bout between Jimmie Gardner of this city and Tommy Quill of Brockton, at the Armory club was a draw. Referee Sheehan might have given it to Quill and got away with it because Quill was the aggressor nearly all the way through and showed some fine fighting. But Gardner in the 5th and 11th rounds did great work and thus saved himself an adverse decision. Gardner didn't look as well as when he met McKinnon and he certainly didn't show the steam. Had he done so the event never would have gone beyond the fifth round. In that round Jimmie whipped a right to the jaw that put Quill down square. A moment later he showed a straight left and down went Quill flat on his back. Quill then stalled and Jimmie didn't have the steam to finish him. At long range fighting Gardner had it all over Quill and he banged away at Tommy's body until the latter was badly worried. But Quill soon saw the trouble and started to keep within Gardner's range and by pushing and getting inside before Jimmie could set and then did great fighting. When Jimmie showed up so finely in the fifth the talent thought that he was playing possum and was laying back to let Quill tire himself before putting the finishing touches on him. But as round followed round and the expected didn't happen it became evident that Gardner was up against a much cleverer little fighter than any one expected. The talent were laying $100 to $400 on Gardner at the start but as the bout progressed the odds shifted to even money. In the last two rounds Gardner showed up strongly again and had Quill holding though both men were tired. Quill was out of the way and did remarkable short arm work. Quill is a choppy little fighter and can take a whole lot of punishment. Gardner hit him often on vital points but apparently did him no harm. Gardner went away down to 140 pounds but weighed in slightly under 142 the required weight. The men will be matched again and with a little different training methods the sports may look to see Gardner carry off the honors.

MAIL DELIVERY

RAILROAD IS BLAMED FOR THE DELAY

There has been more or less protest on the part of the down town business men relative to the delay in the early morning delivery of mail and while the postal authorities have been blamed for the late delivery in reality the Boston & Maine railroad is to blame. The fact that the railroad took off the 6 o'clock a. m. train out of Boston last fall is responsible for the trouble.

In speaking of the delay one of the postoffice officials stated that the first train from Boston at the present time is 6:30 a. m. and as it is necessary for the carriers to wait for this mail it makes the delivery half an hour late.

CAR ENTERED

BOYS GET AWAY WITH SOME FIREWORKS

A freight car of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was broken into last Sunday and a quantity of fireworks taken. The case was reported to the police and the latter gave orders to the patrolmen to be on the lookout for any suspicious collection of the Fourth of July.

Monday afternoon some youngsters residing in the vicinity of Chapel hill had a little demonstration of fireworks and as a result Inspector Martin McNeil and Patrolman James Kennedy had a number of boys called to the station with the result that several were brought before Judge Bailey in the juvenile session of the police court Friday morning.

The same will be done at the Edison cemetery, C. C. Harvey acting the part of judge. At last night's meeting the rank of equine was worked on two candidates in a commendable manner. In memory of the death of the late Charles C. Cross, the charter of All Judges will be draped in black for 30 days.

The regular meeting of Court Messengers, Foresters of America was held last night in Grafton hall. There was a large attendance of members and Chief Ranger James J. Sullivan occupied the chair. There were two propositions for membership and one new member admitted. During the meeting District Deputy Michael H. Mullin presented on behalf of the court to Frank J. McCormack a past chief ranger's certificate. The anniversary committee reported that they had engaged Associate Hall for a banquet on Wednesday evening, Sept. 29th. At the next meeting of the court the semi-annual election of officers will take place. Under the head of good and welfare, interesting remarks were offered by District Deputy Michael J. Mullin, Joseph Dally, and James Keefe. After the meeting a musical entertainment was enjoyed by the members.

Garfield Colony of Pilgrim Fathers held a pleasing entertainment last night at the close of the regular meeting, with the following musical program: Piano solos, Muriel Hopkins; piano solo, Mae Hargis; song, Mrs. D. B. Hart; reading, Master Thomas Mack; violin solo, Harry Daggett; song, Omar Paine and Ellisworth Hart; reading, Master Dana Hart; trio, Mae Hargis, Muriel Hopkins and Omar Paine; song, Miss Mildred Locke; reading, Master Thomas Mack; piano solo, Mae Hargis; song, Mrs. D. B. Hart; reading, Mas-

MARITAL TROUBLES

Engaged the Attention of Judge Hadley Today

A recital of the story of the sufferings of a woman whose happy home was broken up fourteen years ago owing to the alleged duplicity of her husband, was given by Mrs. Nellie White before Judge Hadley in police court this morning when she was in court charged with assault and battery on Miss Violet Ashworth in front of Farrell & Conant's store in Dutton street last Wednesday evening.

Miss Ashworth, the complainant, after being sworn, testified that she resides at 64 Lane street, that last Wednesday night about 6:30 while passing through Dutton street on her way from work she was met by the defendant and that the latter slapped her, first on one side of the face, then on the other and followed that up by pinching her arm. Witness also added that the defendant called her vile names.

During the cross examination of witness, Lawyer Burke endeavored to induce the witness to tell of her relations with the husband of the defendant, but she gave negative answers to such questions.

Mrs. White on the stand charged Miss Ashworth with causing her husband to leave his home.

Mrs. White was fined $5 and entered an appeal, but her friends and her counsel advised her to pay the fine and end the trouble as it was but a small affair anyhow. She agreed and the fine was paid.

Neglected His Wife

Edward J. Bourret pleaded guilty to neglecting his wife, Mrs. Bourret said that her husband had contributed but $20 towards the support of herself and children for a year and ten months. She said that she wanted nothing more to do with him. Mrs. Bourret added that she disliked the publicity of bringing her husband into court, but that she had to do so as a last resort, for she had stood him as long as she could. The court placed Bourret on probation for one week with the understanding that in the meantime he is to make every possible effort to secure work.

More Marital Troubles

John G. Scholfield was charged with neglecting his wife, Jennie T., and when asked to plead to the complaint said: "I am guilty in one sense, but she took my home away from me." Mrs. Scholfield said that her husband left her six weeks ago and since then has not given her any support. She said that she purchased a house and had the deeds made out in her name and he objected to this claiming that the house should be in his name. Mrs. Scholfield said that she could not live with her husband as he made it very disagreeable for her. Judge Hadley decided that this was another case which he would turn over to Probation Officer Slattery and see if the latter could not get the couple to make some mutual agreement.

Heavy Sentence Imposed

Moses St. Dennis, who was before the court yesterday, and pleaded guilty to the larceny of a pair of shoes the property of Joseph H. Pomeroy, was brought into court again this morning and pleaded guilty to the larceny of a coat belonging to Arthur J. Duffreine and a pair of trousers the property of Michael Brown. He was sentenced to the House of Correction in Cambridge for three months for stealing the shoes and was given four months additional for the larceny of the coat and trousers.

Sent to State Farm

Samuel Greenough pleaded guilty to being an idle and disorderly person. Patrolman Goldrick testified that the defendant was in the habit of hanging around saloons in Middlesex street. Patrolman Sheridan corroborated the testimony of his brother officer and added that Greenough also solicited money on the streets. The prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to the state farm.

Ferron Defaulted

Joseph A. Ferron, who was under bail to appear in court this morning to answer to a charge of drunkenness and a second complaint charging him with assault and battery on his wife, did not put in an appearance and was declared defaulted.

Drunk Offenders

Michael Guthrie, who has been before the court three times within three months, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Felix Bellevue, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

William J. Kelly, third offense, was sentenced to the Massachusetts Reformatory and George P. Driscoll, a second offender, was fined $6.

FOR WATER BOARD

Woburn Case Furnishes a Valuable Hint

A case from Woburn that will interest Lowell and every municipality, for that matter, is that of Nutt vs. City of Woburn, which went to the jury this noon. In this case the plaintiff tries to recover damages from the city for injuries received by falling over a water pipe of the water department which protruded several inches above the level of the sidewalk. It is believed there are many of these pipes similarly situated in Lowell.

The next case in order is that of James S. Hastings of this city vs. J. L. Chalifoux, P. W. Qua for the plaintiff and J. J. Kerwin for the defense.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—Carl Fisher of Indianapolis, pilot of the balloon Indiana in the national balloon race has won the trophy which he offered to the aeronaut staying longest in the air.

Mr. Fisher said last night over the telephone from Nashville, Tenn., that he landed Monday night about 10 miles from Tennessee City, Tenn. According to this information the balloon had been in the air 18 hours since its flight from the motor speedway Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Fisher said the Indiana had made two stops but in neither case had touched the ground.

The balloon University City apparently has won the distance contest, having travelled about 375 miles while the Indiana travelled 250 miles.

"Yes, we are safe," said Mr. Fisher over the telephone, thanks to the peer marksmanship of a number of farmers. They began firing on us when we were in Bronx, Conn., and have kept up the target practice ever since. It was a regular fusillade down here in Tennessee.

Collins & Hagan carried the insurance on the balloon and wagon of the "U. S. Mail" across the first night's fire on Middlesex street.

BITTER FIGHT

On Local Option Being Waged Today

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 9.—After the bitter fight that has been waged since the Rose local option law went into effect, voters of Mahoning county today decide whether they will permit or prohibit the sale of liquor in that territory. Mahoning is the poorest and wealthiest county in which a local option election has yet been held in Ohio. If the "drys" win the day more than three hundred saloons will be closed.

Hundreds of vehicles are being used by both sides. The "wet" element has rented every available vehicle in the city and many from surrounding towns to carry voters to the polls. Bands of the "drys" have contributed carriages and autos for the day.

Women and children have been provided with banners bearing such inscriptions as "Giddy Up, you wet worthies," and "Come in, the water's nice."

Advocates of the "wet" policies are also using banners. They are worded so as to appeal to the business men, calling attention to what the loss of the saloon taxes will mean to the municipality and how many people will keep away from a dry town.

Both sides claim a victory, but neither is willing to predict a majority of more than a thousand votes.

BIG BRUSH FIRE

Broke Out in North Billerica at Noon Today

A disastrous brush fire which burned over a number of acres of land and destroyed a great deal of cut wood broke out on land belonging to John McEgan in North Billerica about noon today.

The land where the fire started is located near the railroad track and it is thought that a spark from a passing locomotive started the blaze.

The fire department of Billerica was summoned and the firemen were battling with the flames at the time of going to press.

BISHOP'S NIECE

The Bride of William A.

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized this forenoon in the church at Barry.

The ceremony was at ten o'clock and the contracting parties were William A. Barry of 685 Broadway and Miss Mary McCullahan of the Brooklyn boy, in whose behalf Supreme Justice Gaynor recently started a fight against the police commissioner.

The mayor has not made known his findings in the Duffy case, but it is generally understood that he has decided to order the removal of the boy's picture.

FINAL SESSION

Of the Congregational Club for the Season

The final meeting of the season of the Lowell Congregational club was held last night in the Elliot church. The speaker was Rev. Charles F. Dole, D. D., of Jamaica Plain, the president of the Twentieth Century club of Boston. His subject was "Hawaii—And Some of Its Problems." There were musical selections by Mr. Hans Borchers, violinist, and Mr. Wendell Wheeler, accompanist. The following officers were elected for the new year which opens in the fall:

President, Rev. A. C. Ferrin; vice president, Prof. Louis A. Olney; secretary and treasurer, Louis Alexander. The committee chosen are as follows: Home work, Rev. A. P. Dunlop; Rev. F. G. Alger, Rev. E. V. Bigelow; social, Henry A. Smith, C. H. Nelson; Walter A. Hoyt, O. A. Richardson, J. A. Faulkner, Mrs. C. A. Richardson, Mrs. C. W. Howe; membership, C. A. Richardson, A. D. Carter, Mrs. E. W. Clark, C. E. Fleming, C. H. Clogston and the secretary, Louis Alexander.

The report of the retiring secretary, for the year, showed a present membership in the club of 173 and the treasurer's report showed a balance on hand June 1st, of $75.51, and unpaid dues amounting to $41.

Rev. A. P. Dunlop for the home work committee, speaking of what the churches are going to do in the summer said that some of them will keep open while others will be closed, and division being about equal. He made special reference to the planting of vines around the Pawtucket church, with a recommendation that others follow the example.

Asa C. Russell commended the business ability that has been manifested by the retiring secretary, Henry A. Smith, and this sentiment was endorsed by the president, Rev. B. A. Willmott. Rev. A. C. Ferrin then moved that this sentiment of appreciation be spread upon the records, and it was so voted.

Speaking of the Hawaiian Islands, Dr. Dole said: "Hawaii is a land of rain-bows and liquid sunbeams. Honolulu is a beautifully built town of about 30,000 people, with mountains 2000 feet high hanging right over the city. "Eight of the 12 islands are inhabited. All appear to be a sort of volcanic range, making not so much area altogether as the single state of Massachusetts."

On the island of Hawaii is a living volcano, where one can see what is going on, can look right down into the pit of the crater, and see the boiling lava. Dr. Dole described his visit to the volcano, first taking a steamer along the shore of the island of Hawaii, which he says is "one of the grandest spectacles that man ever witnessed."

"One of the island journey, the traveler is entertained at the Volcano house, kept by a Greek named Demosthenes."

"The people who know the Japanese best and are treating them after Christian principles and who trust them instead of distrusting them, are those who give you the very best account of them as laborers."

"Suppose the Orientals who are now already growing up in these schools and are educated with our traditions, stay in the islands. In the course of 50 years the population of native-born citizens will be largely of Oriental stock. But men who know that stock best and are working for it, will tell you that they believe that those native Americans are going to be just as good American citizens as any other kind of stock that comes to our shores. Why shouldn't they be? They are in every way taking in traditions that make Americans."

"Behind this crater of Diamond Head is going on a formidable work. There are great mortar guns, and the whole area for miles around will be plated into little squares, allowing men to drop those great shells down into the craters' edges. They are excavating a huge harbor just for war purposes. No lover of peace and good will can be pleased with that sight. You can conceive of other ways, so much nobler, for managing the problems of the Pacific ocean."

"This friction which prevails between nations, this fear and mutual distrust, may again be translated two ways, just according as you have faith in God. If you have no faith, you will be pretty likely to say, we are going to need warships to the end of time. On the other hand, if you believe that this world is destined to be a family of nations, you are going to talk on the other side; and even when you face these tremendous preparations for war, you are going to insist that none of us will have war, and you are going to emphasize the fact that all the nations have changed their tone about these things. They no longer say that these things are far away, but they say that what we are spending our money for, is for peace."

PRIZE ESSAYS

TO BE PASSED UPON BY A COMMITTEE

The Lowell Historical society has appointed Rev. A. St. John Chamber, rector of St. Anne's church, Harvey B. Greene, of the park commission and Mr. Philip S. Marten, editor of the Courier-Citizen, the judges to examine the essays submitted by members of the graduating class of the Lowell High school in competition for the prizes offered by the society.

The competition has become one of the school events of the senior year and from the time the subject is announced at the beginning of the year until the graduation program reveals the names of the successful contestants there is considerable conjecture as to who will win the prizes of $10 and $5 in gold offered by the society for the two best essays.

The subjects submitted by the so-

DEFEAT THE MEN WHO DEFEATED THE CHARTER BILL.

The city of Boston is to have a new charter through the good offices of the legislature. The politicians in Boston are opposed to the new charter just as the Lowell politicians were opposed to the recent charter bill for this city.

The city of Boston will be vastly benefited by a new charter that will simplify and systematize the administration of the city's affairs. Boston carries a heavy burden of debt as a result of extravagance in past years when there seemed to be very little attention paid to the methods of doing business. The new charter will make grafting a very difficult matter in the city of Boston if its provisions be properly carried out.

The city of Lowell is equally handicapped by an antiquated charter. The provisions of the new charter bill recently introduced in the legislature would have remedied many of the defects of the present charter and would probably have been adopted had it been submitted to the people. But the politicians got in their work and backed by a number of the Lowell representatives in the legislature, and even by Senator Hibbard, they were able to accomplish the defeat of the bill.

The people of Lowell should remember these legislators when they come up for re-election in the fall. They worked directly in opposition to the interests of our city and of their constituents when they favored the defeat of the charter, purely for political reasons. Every man of them who opposed the charter bill should be defeated if he comes up for re-election. That is the only way to secure a delegation to the legislature that will look after the interests of Lowell.

The board of trade spent a good deal of time in preparing the revised charter and beyond question the features of the bill were highly calculated to improve the government of our city. They centered responsibility on the mayor and gave him the power of appointing and removing most of the principal officials.

One of the important provisions was that the common council should be abolished leaving a single board of nine aldermen to transact the business now done by the city council. But the features of the measure are too well known to need any recital here. The bill was not defeated on its merits but because of political reasons, particularly the speculation that it might benefit this or that candidate, this or that political party. These are not the considerations by which the city of Lowell can be benefited. As a result of such political dickering our city is being held in the back-ground while other cities with no better opportunities are getting ahead of us. It is all because we do not elect the right kind of men to office.

When any public official betrays the interests of the city in this manner from unworthy motives he should be retired on the first opportunity. We shall have something to say in regard to each of the representatives who assisted in the defeat of the charter bill. It is too soon yet to particularize but we will refresh the memory of the voters as to the action of these men when the proper time comes.

BRITISH COLONIES TO BUILD NAVIES

The Dominion of Canada is to build eight cruisers for assisting England in the defense of the empire. Australia is also to build war vessels and to have a fleet, while New Zealand is already building battleships.

The ultimate end of this move on the part of the British colonies may be that just as soon as any dispute arises between them and the mother country, they may point to their battleships and use them in asserting their independence.

Canada's loyalty is not doubted at the present time, but a change is likely to come in the near future when she will want to shake off the yoke of England. Already Australia has aspirations in that direction and so has New Zealand. England will find in the long run that these colonies with fleets of their own will soon aspire for complete independence and grasp some favorable opportunity of taking their place among the nations of the earth.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE.

Mayor Brown is to be congratulated upon his success in securing an improvement in the train service between Lowell and Boston. The trains to be added are greatly needed and especially a train leaving Lowell at 10 o'clock. For years people from other cities have been unwilling to come to Lowell in the evening because they could not get a train outward after 9.35. An express at 10 o'clock will be a welcome relief.

ARTHUR SAXON

REGARDED AS STRONGEST MAN IN WORLD

Since the arrival in America of Arthur Saxon, the strongest man in the world, and his two brothers, who are almost as strong as he, these three remarkable Germans have been interviewed by hundreds of magazine writers and scientists, who without a single exception, declare them to be the most wonderful men in point of strength the world has ever known. The Saxons are now being featured with Ringling Brothers' circus, and while the show was exhibiting in New York City last April, they gave a test in Madison Square Garden one afternoon, merely to demonstrate the fact that the weights and bells they use in their act weigh exactly what the advertisements state. At the meeting no special efforts were made, yet the three Saxons broke every world record for lifting and supporting weights. The official weighers and judges were Gilman Lowe, editor of Health magazine; Warren O. Travis, champion light-weight back lifter of the United States; Herbert H. Lome, editor of Physical Culture magazine; Prof. A. F. Schmidt, Prof. H. W. Titus and Edward J. Broderick. Arthur Saxon lifted with his right hand high above his head a 512-pound bar bell, apparently with no effort. The little group of physical culture experts applauded with surprise and congratulated the giant. He had broken a world's record which Louis Cyr, a Canadian, had held for 20 years. Cyr's life was only 274 pounds. Later Saxon, lying upon his back, supported with his feet a plank upon which sat 13 men, their combined weight being 2239 pounds, while with his hands he held up three men and a bar bell, making the combined weight just 3168 pounds. "I do that, also twice a day," said Saxon, modestly.

SEEN AND HEARD

Residents of Pawtucket street and lower Pawtucketville thought that it was all off with them Sunday night shortly before 11 o'clock when the usual death-like silence of the night was rudely shattered by the clatter of hoofs and the incessant ringing of an alarm gong. No bunch of Textile school boys, however boisterous could compare with the racket of Sunday night. It was the ambulance going to a call in Pawtucketville and the driver kept the bell ringing incessantly all along Pawtucket street, across the bridge into Pawtucketville, although there wasn't a wagon, auto, street car, or even a pedestrian on the street at the time. Many jumped out of bed and ran to their windows to see what had occasioned the unseasonable racket. A short time afterward the patrol wagon made a trip to Pawtucketville over the same course, but outside of the rattling of the harnesses one would never know that a heavy wagon was passing along, especially after the great commotion made by the ambulance.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mayor Busse of Chicago has recommended longer office hours for city job holders. He is of the opinion that municipal office holders should give as good service as is to be found in private corporations. Mayor Busse has advised that council establish official hours from 9 o'clock till noon, and from 1 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon.

Orville Wright since his accident at Fort Myer, has not made any flights, but he is to resume the carrying out of the very difficult government contract next month. This involves a transatlantic flight across a deep valley, which is something the like of which has never been accomplished even by Wilbur Wright during all the 3000 miles he has flown abroad, although he has at times risen more than 350 feet in height tests over smooth ground. In cross country flying, however, both Farman and Bleriot so far hold the records.

Adres Osuna, director of public education, has asked the state government of Coahuila, Mexico, to enact an order prohibiting school teachers and children from attending bull fights. Señor Osuna believes that witnessing such brutal exhibitions as bull fighting tends to harden the minds of students and make them unfit for citizenship.

President Taft's portrait by Scrolla, the noted Spanish painter, has been taken to Cincinnati and installed in the famous private art gallery of the president's brother, Charles P. Taft. It is not known what price C. P. Taft paid the artist, but it is said to be in five or six figures.

William Redmond, member of Parliament, reviewing the appalling conditions of the unemployed in the large cities of England, says: "Happy are the men and women who never drift to the cities at all; happy the laborer in his cottage in the country; happy the cotter with his little plot of land. They at least have the peace and glory of God's fresh air about them. They may have scanty food of the poorest, but they are spared the misery of the workman of the town, who finds his own poor position accentuated a hundred fold when he sees around him wealth, the richest particle of which would mean salvation for him and his."

In the common pleas court in Pittsburgh recently application was made for a charter for an association of women to be known as the Pittsburgh Cat club. The organization aims to promote the importation and ownership of thoroughbred cats, "to improve the breeding thereof and to interest and educate the public generally." A home for lost cats is promised and weekly lectures on the cat will be given if present plans are carried out.

Rev. Anna H. Shaw, who has just returned from London to this country, says that Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who heretofore has confined her support of woman's suffrage to money contributions, will personally support the cause. Miss Shaw says that Mrs. Belmont announced her intention of joining the movement at a dinner given by the Duchess of Marlborough, at which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the Woman's International Suffrage Alliance was a guest.

BILLERICA

The North Billerica fire department met last night in the engine room of the company. No action was taken on the matter of reducing the membership of the company from 20 to 15 men, which was offered by the fire engineers a week ago.

Prior to the meeting the company from the North village was summoned to the Billerica road where there was a brush fire in progress. The fire burned over about ten acres of land before it was extinguished.

HORSES BURNED

RESCUING HORSES FROM THE BURNING STABLE

In Stanley Co's Barn on Middlesex Street

Several Horses Rescued but Four Perished—Barn a Total Loss—Cause of Fire Unknown

Four horses perished in a fire that gutted the old Stanley stable in Middlesex street, near Washington base-ball park, last night. The first alarm of fire was given by the steam engines that were on the tracks close by. They whistled for all they were worth and continued to whistle while the fire balls were ringing. At about 9:15 an alarm sounded from box 145 at the corner of Middlesex and School streets and the flames rolling up toward the sky gave promise of a big conflagration and in that vicinity there is good food for fumes.

The firemen's response to the alarm, however, seemed almost instantaneous as the barn being practically in the open gave the firemen an opportunity to cover it quickly and completely.

The stable was owned by the G. E. Stanley transportation company, and was leased to Charles McCarthy of the New England Laundry Co. The stable contained about 20 stalls and nine horses belonging to the laundry were there when the fire started. Other horses in the stable at the time included two "U. S. Mail" horses that were used in the transportation of the mails back and forth between the post-office and the depot, one belonging to the Independent Beef & Provision Co., and one belonging to William H. Baird, an employee of the Daniel Gage Ice Co. The last four perished in the flames.

In the stable were also stored several wagons, harnesses and three tons of hay. The wagons and harnesses were saved but the hay went up in smoke.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Thomas Quadey, a driver for the New England Laundry, said he had left the

THEATRE VOYONS

Tomorrow the feature of the Theatre Voyons bill will be a beautiful romance of Italy entitled "The Violin Maker of Cremona." There have been pictures shown in the past of parades and festivals but "The Carnival at Nice" is said to excel all of them. At Nice thousands are spent on decorations and the local displays alone are worth going to Europe to see. There will be several illustrated songs, sung by the best singers in Lowell and nowhere in the whole bill is there a weak spot.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

With four reels of new moving pictures shown for the first time in Lowell, two illustrated songs and a series of the beautifully colored stationary views of the world known as Traveler's pictures, the Academy of Music will be a place where the money's worth is fully given for a few cent admission, an admission including a good seat. Reserved seats are five cents extra. The shows run daily from 2 to 7 and 7 to 10:30 with a continuous show on Saturday.

FELL INTO CANAL

Small Boy Drowned While at Play

Willie Belanger, aged 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belanger of 188 Worth street was drowned in the northern canal in Anne street, near the Merrimack mills.

The boy was playing on a raft used during the day by the employees of the Essex and Canal Co. Two little boys named McKinnon, living in Malden Lane, were on the raft with him and according to their story the Belanger boy tried to walk along the end of the raft on one foot dipping the other in the water and losing his balance fell into the water.

The McKinnon boys gave the alarm and ran to Willie's home to tell his mother. Twenty minutes later Herbert Taylor of 1 Dutton street recovered the body by means of an iron grapple on the end of a long pole. The body was removed in the ambulance to the boy's home. He is survived by his parents, six sisters and a brother.

R. R. PRESIDENTS

ASKED TO PRACTICE FOREST CONSERVATION

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The presidents of the leading railroads of the country have just received a letter from Clifford Pinchot, United States forester, calling upon them to practice forest conservation and better timber utilization. In his letter the forester says:

"I am writing to call your attention again to some phases of a subject to which I know you must already have given much thought—the conservation of our forests. The report of the national conservation commission shows that we are cutting our forests three times faster than they are growing; that much large timber and young growth are destroyed yearly by fire; that as a nation we have used wood wastefully and extravagantly; that the only way we can get the timber we shall need in the future is to keep all our forest land constantly growing trees; and that the longer we delay action the greater will be the pinch of a timber shortage later on."

"One-fifth of our remaining timber is in public forests, and on these forests the nation and the states are practicing forestry. Four-fifths of our timber is privately owned, and it is being cut almost exclusively for present profit without regard to the future. The problem of providing a timber supply can not be solved by the national government alone, by the states alone, nor by individuals alone; all must work together.

"Since the railroads are among the largest consumers of wood, they will suffer heavily from the much higher prices and the actual scarcity of timber which will occur if our forests are not conserved. Railroad companies can most advantageously undertake both the growing of timber and the economical utilization of the product. They have a steady demand for timber, the extent of which can be largely anticipated, and they need much small timber of kinds which can be grown in a relatively short time.

"Each railroad has its own special timber problems which must be worked out to meet the given conditions. At the same time there are certain lines of general policy which can be profitably adopted by many roads. They are:

"1.—The use of chemically treated ties whenever possible.

"2.—The use of so-called inferior woods, as, for example, black gum and loblolly pine, for ties, which will reduce the drain on white oak, and which is entirely practicable if the ties are treated.

"3.—The purchase and management of land bearing mature timber which can be used immediately, and of second-growth timber which will meet the needs of the future. Such lands if properly managed will insure a perpetual supply of ties and lumber at the cost of production.

"4.—The planting of trees upon nonagricultural land owned by the company, which does not now contain sufficient young growth to produce a timber crop.

"5.—Co-operation with other roads in the adoption of standard specifications for ties and timber and for the treatment of them. Co-operation with timberland owners and the States in fire prevention, and in bringing about conditions which shall make the practice of forestry profitable.

"These are in substance the recommendations of the sub-committee on Forest supplies of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association. The adoption of these recommendations and the appointment of technical men to carry them out will, it seems to me, be wise action for any railroad. The influence of their general adoption would be far reaching and most beneficial.

"I should be very glad to discuss the matter more in detail with you at your convenience, or to be of use in any other way."

Responses which show much interest are being received, and it is presumed that definite action along the lines mentioned will result.

THE MARGARET

WINNER OF THE RACE TO BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 9.—So far as can be figured the schooner Margaret, owned by George S. Runk of New York, has won the sailing race from New York to Bermuda by about four and a half hours. Three of the yachts crossed the finish mark, off St. David's Head, yesterday afternoon, in one of the most remarkable contests that has ever taken place on the sea.

Less than two minutes separated the schooner Amorita, owned by Dr. W. L. Baum of Chicago, and the Margaret. The former was first over, but as the Margaret had an allowance of four hours and thirty minutes and finished right on the Amorita's heels, the Margaret proved the winner on her allowance.

The schooner Crusader II, owned by Edwin Palmer of the Atlantic Yacht club, came over the line 33 minutes and 55 seconds after the Margaret.

The start was made from Gravesend Bay at 10 a. m. Saturday and the finishing times were as follows:

Amorita, 4:19:15.

Margaret, 4:21:12.

Crusader II, 5:00:07.

The Amorita allowed the Crusader II an hour and thirty minutes and the Margaret had three hours' allowance of Crusader II. Up to dark the schooner Marchioness, owned by G. P. Crozier, of the Yachtsmen's club, which has an allowance of 24 hours from the Amorita, and the schooner Nestless, owned by Dr. L. Sharpe, also of the Yachtsmen's club, which has an allowance of 45 hours and 45 minutes, had not been sighted. As the schooner has a racing length of only 67 feet and the schooner 33 feet, it was not expected that they would be able to overlap their larger rivals.

Nothing has been heard from the power boats which started from Gravesend bay at 1:45 Saturday afternoon. It was thought here that the leader of these boats would reach the finish before the sailing yachts, but the latter were favored by excellent breezes and a comparatively smooth sea, of which they took full advantage.

A PRESENT

FROM LYDIA DARRAH CHAPTER TO MRS. NEALE

The members of the Lydia Darrah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, with their husbands and friends were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Neale at their home in Beacon street, last night.

After the guests had assembled the following program was carried out: Recitation by Carter Hoyt, "Grandfather's Foot Stove"; solos by Mrs. Geo. H. Morse, accompanied by Miss Morse; "The Rising in 1776," Mrs. James McKinley; "Colonial musketeers," written by Mrs. Elizabeth Gage and read by Mrs. D. L. Page; "My Flag," Miss Molly Flemings.

At the conclusion of the above program Mrs. McKinley surprised Mrs. Neale by presenting her in behalf of the chapter a beautiful silver sandwich plate and tongs.

Refreshments were served after which a "white elephant" party was held.

Everyone was supposed to carry some article that had become a "white elephant" on his hands and trade it with someone else. As the articles were all carefully wrapped and the trading had to be done "sight unseen," there was great amusement when the packages were opened. If not satisfied with the first trade, everyone was allowed to rewrap his article and trade again. All enjoyed the entertainment greatly and expressed their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Neale for the pleasant occasion.

Humbugs and Frauds Must Go

The day is going, and going fast, and going forever, when unscrupulous men can openly humbug and defraud the public with fake preparations for the hair. The day is close at hand when no sane men or women will put anything on their hair or head unless they know exactly what it is. People are realizing more and more that hair and scalp troubles generally are overcome by simply keeping the head clean. Dandruff, as a rule, is a condition arising from neglect to cleanse the scalp regularly with the proper cleanser. From the pores of the scalp there comes an oily secretion, together with used-up cells and other waste matter that Nature is through with and throws off. The oily secretion is intended to keep the scalp soft and the hair lustrous. But the trouble is that dust, dirt and disease germs float around in the air and settle on this oily matter, which holds them fast. In a short time scales or dandruff form on the scalp, and the pores become clogged. The hair roots do not receive the proper nourishment, and soon the hair falls out, sometimes so badly that baldness is only a little way off. You resort to hair "tonics," "invigorators" and

"growers," but the trouble remains just the same. In time you try everything of the sort you hear of, and in the end you realize that your money has been thrown away. Soaps and shampoos generally do not help you, because they remove the oily secretion, leave the scalp and hair dry, and rob it of the very thing Nature intended to soften the scalp and give lustre to the hair. There is now sold in the drug stores a preparation called Birt's Head Wash that is fast fading away because the ingredients of which it is made are printed on each package. They are as follows: Refined Soap, Glycerin, White of Eggs, Salicylic Acid and Coccin Cocoonut Oil. Be sure and show this formula to your doctor or druggist, and as to his opinion of it, The Coccin Cocoonut Oil in Birt's Head Wash takes the place of the oily secretion supplied by Nature. When you are through using this Head Wash, your hair will be lustrous, and your scalp soft, smooth and clean. Follow this rule: Don't put a drop of anything on your head unless they know exactly what it is, and your hair troubles will be a thing of the past. Price 50 cents at all druggists.

Drunken Man Smashed Glass and Threatened Life

William J. Alexander, while under the influence of liquor yesterday afternoon, entered the boarding house of Patrick Coleman in Webster street, Hamilton corporation, and started to strike through a pane of glass and then pulling a knife out and threatening to kill the people in the house. Patrolman Winters was summoned and arrested Alexander.

In court this morning Alexander pleaded guilty to being drunk and also to a complaint charging him with maliciously breaking glass. He was fined $10 and placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Violation of Milk Law

Andrew Stockman who keeps a small store at 647 Middlesex street pleaded guilty to selling milk below the standard. While the standard is placed at 12.15 the sample taken from Mr. Stockman's store showed that it contained but 10.00 solids and 1.3 butter fat. Mr. Stockman had purchased the store but a week before the sample was taken and it was the opinion of the court that the poor quality of the milk was due in a large measure to the fact that through ignorance the clerk sold the milk without mixing the cream with the milk at the bottom of the can and that after the top of the can had been sold the milk below the cream was of poorer quality. Stockman was fined $10. This is the first case in which Milk Inspector Melvin F. Master appeared.

Arrested in Tyngsboro

Chief Benjamin Lawrence, of the Tyngsboro police department arrested Arthur Girard, aged 19 years, in the upriver town yesterday afternoon for being a vagrant and also on suspicion of having broken into some of the camps on the bank of the river. Girard pleaded guilty to the charge of being a vagrant and was sentenced to the state farm.

Drunken Offenders

Thomas Bradley of Graniteville allowed that he was a habitual drunkard yesterday when he came into town and got drunk, but pleaded for clemency as he claimed that he was the sole support of an aged mother. It cost him $5.

Hugh McKay while under the influence of liquor last night broke through a door in the 21st block in Middlesex street this morning loaded guilty to being drunk and escaped with a fine of $2.

James Smith, Boston, drunk, $2.

Edward DeForge, a young man about 27 years of age, was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Annie M. Lapoint.

Annie testified that last Saturday when she went to visit the home of her parents in Cushing street she met the defendant and another young man drinking in the hallway. She said that he said "Hello, sunflower" and then struck her in the mouth.

"What did he call you sunflower?" asked the court.

"To get me going I guess," was the response.

"To get you what?"

"Oh he wanted to make me mad."

DeForge denied that he called her "sunflower." He said that he called her "Sunshine" whereupon she called him vile names and made an attempt to strangle him. He pushed her away and she found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $5 which was paid.

Judge Bell

Decides Spalding House is Exempt From Taxes

Judge Bell this morning handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Molly Varnum chapter. Daughters of the American Revolution against the city of Lowell for exemption of taxes paid under protest on the Spalding house in Pawtucket street.

This was a test case heard before Judge Bell in the jury waived session of the superior court wherein the plaintiff corporation claimed that it should be exempt from taxation on the ground that it is a literary and benevolent corporation. It was agreed that the organization was one which educated people to be patriotic and the question arose whether this was a work of benevolence. It was also brought out that the plaintiffs did a certain amount of literary work including the preservation of historical sites, etc. Albert S. Howard appeared for the plaintiffs while the city was represented by William W. Duncan.

GAME WARDENS

Investigate Shooting of Deer at Kenwood

Who killed the deer at Kenwood Sunday?

That is the question that Deputy Game Wardens Burney and Gonzales would like to know.

Fred Pilotte, the mayor of Kenwood, doesn't know. Special Officer Willie killed a deer in the park; it wasn't kosher and hence the deer was safe, and the question remains unanswered.

On Saturday Deputy Game Warden Harry Gonzales of hunting and fishing fame assisted by his friend "Joe" Flynn, also in the front rank of piscatorial pleasure seekers, corralled a young buck that had been taken out of the Ford street canal and they carried it to Dracut where deer had been seen and released.

The following day a young deer was found in the woods, the victim of a bullet wound, and Deputy Gonzales was notified. The latter immediately sent word to the state game warden as a result of which Deputy Burney came here today to institute an investigation. There is a fine of $50 for killing deer in this state. The deer killed Sunday was not the deer taken to Dracut on the day previous, according to the descriptions given.

Addressed Members of the High School Alumni

The third reunion of the alumni of the Lowell high school, at which was represented every class from the early 50's to the present day, was held in high school hall last night and the event was a very successful, very instructive and very enjoyable one. In one chain, so to speak, there were linked all the classes to be graduated from the school and the class rooms and large hall presented a pretty and interesting scene.

Solon W. Stevens, president of the newly incorporated association and of the class of 1893, presided. Mr. Stevens spoke of the great men that the Lowell high school had turned out and recalled the fact that just 50 years ago the late Gov. Frederic T. Greenidge was graduated from the school and received the first Carney medal offered as a prize for scholarship. Mr. Stevens said:

"In addition to this expression of welcome, I want to add a few words of congratulation in the fact that the Lowell high school alumni association welcomes you tonight as a body corporate, organized under the laws of the commonwealth of Massachusetts and that the charter by which we are incorporated is one of the finest in the south side of this room. Heretofore we have acted as a voluntary association, and our reunions have been very pleasant and delightful; but tonight we come before you and ask students who have studied in this school to join the alumni principally because we come before you as an organized body."

In presenting Dr. Booker T. Washington, the principal speaker, Mr. Stevens referred to him as "one of the most remarkable men in this or any other country."

Born in slavery just 50 years ago, in spite of pinched poverty, in spite of bitter prejudice in the face of obstacles which were powerful enough at times to crush the ambition of the stoutest heart, he has pushed himself by pluck and brains, from the lowliest society into a genuine fellowship with the highest educators in Europe, and today he stands before the American people as one of the most prominent educators of the world. He is a man who is devoting his life to the education of his people along the lines of honesty, intelligence and efficiency. He asks no favoritism for his race, but he does claim, and he has a right to claim a square deal and a fair play for his unfortunate race, and this will be given him."

Dr. Washington's Address

Dr. Washington's address was the feature of the meeting.

It was one of his characteristic discourses on the progress of the negro race and the work of the Tuskegee Institute as the great lever of that progress. Dr. Washington is a vigorous speaker, his faculty of interjecting a lot of humorous little anecdotes and jests into his discourse that kept the audience in good humor and prevented them from getting weary through his long discussion. He certainly showed that the Tuskegee Institute is doing splendid work in the line of practical industrial training, principally agriculture and the arts of home building and of providing food and clothing. The institute has 3000 acres of well tilled land upon which thousands of students are employed for a part of their time daily. Brick making, carpentry, cotton raising, fruit growing, masonry and iron working are all taught in a practical way in connection with the courses of the institute. The graduates go out to different parts of the southern states to be teachers not only from the educational standpoint, but to be leaders in industrial development. They are taught to make their farms productive, how to build cottages, how to clothe and feed themselves economically. Thus they are being taught to be industrious, to be self-supporting, self-respecting and self-reliant. Dr. Washington stated that this was shown by the manner in which the negroes are branching out in many new lines of industry. They are conducting a great many drug stores, and of late have established a very considerable number of banks which are conducted entirely by negroes.

They are rapidly embracing the educational opportunities offered them and so great is the success of the Tuskegee Institute in its various lines of work and so ready do the negroes respond to the instruction given for their industrial uplift that it is a self-evident fact that nothing is needed to bring the negroes of the south to a higher level of civilization than men and women of kind that as being done by the Tuskegee Institute. Dr. Washington pointed out that the cost per capita of education in the south is not more than one-half that in the north. The percentage of illiterates in the south is 55 while in the north it is 15. In 1905, in Russia, the illiterates were 75 and in the United States, according to the large audience, he was literally applauded at the close.

While one might say that Washington is a polished speaker and is full of his subject that occasionally he rises to a degree of enthusiasm that has all the effects of oratory with his audience.

After having expressed his appreciation of the privilege and responsibility conferred upon him, Dr. Washington proceeded with his subject, "Success of Negro Education." He said it was hard to convince the American people that the negro can get on and use effectively and practically education. He allowed it was very much with a face as with an individual that the nation like the individual has to pass through its youthful period, or as he said, "what we sometimes term the silly period of life." He said that the black race like the individual has learned to get down to business, and that throughout the country the negro is exhibiting a common sense in relation to education that he has never before exhibited in so large a degree. Adding to this he said:

"I think you will find that in spite of all of his weak points, in spite of all of his vices, in the more fundamental things of life the negro of this country is more like the native white American than almost any other foreign countries. He more readily adapts himself to the conditions that exist in the community. He more nearly digests ideas of American civilization. So aside from the matter of history and the color of his skin, he more quickly makes himself one with you than any other race. He does not cling to his blanket, as does the American Indian; he does not wear his hair in a braid, as the Chinaman does. He throws aside his old habits and dresses as the people do in the community in which he lives."

The speaker wanted it understood that the negro understands and appreciates American institutions and stands ready at any time, if need be, to lay down his life in defence of the stars and stripes. He said that he appreciated fully the strong points and weak points of his race but after considering their condition, their prospects from every point of view, he said there was great hope for the future of his people in this country, and it was up to the people of this country to realize that they have, in connection with the uplifting of the negro, a privilege and a responsibility.

He said that the negro people in the south, for the most part, work; but the trouble is they are so ignorant and inexperienced that they do not know how to utilize the products of their labor. He said they are down in the darkness but they realize it and want to get up.

The saloon, he said, was a great detriment to the negro people. It is responsible for many of the lynchings and the crimes that led to the lynchings. But the southern states are banishing the saloons and sending them up north.

The speaker called attention to the fact that since the negro has been free he has not called upon the nation for a single dollar with which to feed, clothe or house himself. He referred to the number of institutions for the unfortunate in our cities and said that in Alabama, with a population of 33,000 black people, he did not think that a single dollar is being spent by the public for the care of those people.

STABLE ENTERED

The stable of the United States Bobbin & Shuttle company at the corner of Rogers and Perry streets was broken into late last night or early this morning and a valuable dark bay horse, weighing about 1100 pounds, brass plate harness with brass trimmings and Concord road buggy were stolen. The break was discovered about 2:30 o'clock this morning by a watchman who immediately notified the local police.

The thieves pried open the lock on a large gate leading to the stable and gained an entrance to the stable by forcing a lock on one of the doors.

Team Stolen--Parties Arrested in Lawrence

When Lieut. Martin Connors was notified of the robbery he immediately informed the local patrolman and telephoned Lawrence, Nashua and towns surrounding Lowell to be on the lookout for the outfit.

This morning the local police received a telephonic message from Lawrence stating that the horse and wagon had been recovered and two men, a woman who were in the carriage at the time were placed under arrest and would be held until the Lowell police sent for them. Inspectors Martin Maher and Charles Laflamme went to the down-river city and returned with the trio about noon.

GEN. BARRY

TELLS OF EFFICIENCY OF MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Touching the efficient administration of the medical department of the army that occupied Cuba during the late American intervention the interesting statement is made by Gen. Barry's report just made public that during the two and a half years that his command was in the island it had a much lower non-effective rate than troops stationed in the United States enjoying the comforts and conveniences of modern sanitation, excellent barracks and other conveniences. On leaving Cuba April 1 there was not a case of yellow fever on the island.

AT GREAT CONVENTION OPENED IN WORCESTER

WORCESTER, June 10.—Nearly 1000 delegates from many parts of the United States and Canada assembled in this city today for the 20th annual session of the supreme council, Mystic Order of the Veiled Prophet, of the Enchanted Realm which was opened here today. The order which was organized 20 years ago in Hamilton, N. Y., has "protos" extending from Los Angeles, Calif., to Halifax, N. S. The largest branch is at Buffalo with 1400 members and the only branch in New England. A proto is in this city. Only blue lodge masons are eligible for membership. The last annual session was in Chicago.

The opening today was brief. The delegates met in the forenoon and after listening to a welcoming address by Mayor James Logan adjourned to spend the remainder of the day at a nearby park.

KIGHTS OF MALTA

NASHUA, N. H., June 10.—Maine and New Hampshire branches of the Knights of Malta were represented today at the annual convention of the grand commandery which has jurisdiction over the two states. The convention was opened with the performance of the traditional service in the forenoon and the conferring of the past grand commander's degree. The long program of business was then entered upon which included the annual address of grand commander Ernest Brown, reading of various reports and election and installation of officers and exemplification of degree work.

CHIEF HOSMER

Gets Instructions From the Mayor

Mayor Brown has instructed Chief Hosmer of the fire department to make frequent inspections of those and other fire apparatus in the different public buildings and the mayor has instructed or will instruct City Messenger Pattee, Sheriff Mayberry of the city farm, and others, to see to it that persons under their charge are acquainted with the fire apparatus in the different buildings. The city messenger will be instructed to drill his janitors so that in case of fire in the city hall he will be able to "Johnnie on the spot." Besides being a good thing in case of fire, this necessary exercise will give the janitors the necessary exercise conducive to good bodily health.

The mayor does not say who shall receive instructions at the city farm, but it is to be presumed that he does not mean that the members of the board of charities would have to acquaint themselves with the fire apparatus at the farm. The chairman of the board, who has expressed himself as being very desirous of co-operating with the mayor, would probably draw the line at playing fireman. The mayor's suggestion, however, that people at that institution and in public buildings here today to acquaint themselves with the fire fighting outfits installed there will be referred to Superintendent Whelan who can carry out the order.

TANNERY WAS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

HOULTON, Me., June 10.—The loss by fire which destroyed the leather tannery of J. Dickinson at Woodstock, N. B., early today did not exceed $4000. An automobile party which arrived here today from Woodstock stated that no serious fires were noticed along the road.

RETURN TO WORK

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 10.—The 150 union men who were at work remodeling a local hotel and who went out on strike on Tuesday, because six non-union electricians were at work on the job, returned to their places today, the strike having been called off by the district trades council who announced that union electricians will be put to work. Eight different trades were represented in the strike and about $150,000 worth of work was tied up.

CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 10.—The annual conference of the national conference of charities and connections which convened here last evening continued its work today. The topic for the day are "Immigrant Children" and "Families and Neighborhoods." The conference will continue until Wednesday next with morning and evening sessions. The afternoon will be devoted entirely to the entertainment of delegates. Today's conference was opened by Secretary Charles of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children of Boston in an address on "The breaking up of families."

FOREST FIRES SMOLDERING

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 10.—Forest fires near this town were still smoldering today but were not considered at all dangerous. There near the villages of Chapman, Castle Hill and Spragueville still threatened those places. Men were working almost constantly to save the scores of endangered buildings.

Dr. Washington's Address

Dr. Washington's address was the feature of the meeting.

It was one of his characteristic discourses on the progress of the negro race and the work of the Tuskegee Institute as the great lever of that progress. Dr. Washington is a vigorous speaker, his faculty of interjecting a lot of humorous little anecdotes and jests into his discourse that kept the audience in good humor and prevented them from getting weary through his long discussion. He certainly showed that the Tuskegee Institute is doing splendid work in the line of practical industrial training, principally agriculture and the arts of home building and of providing food and clothing. The institute has 3000 acres of well tilled land upon which thousands of students are employed for a part of their time daily. Brick making, carpentry, cotton raising, fruit growing, masonry and iron working are all taught in a practical way in connection with the courses of the institute. The graduates go out to different parts of the southern states to be teachers not only from the educational standpoint, but to be leaders in industrial development. They are taught to make their farms productive, how to build cottages, how to clothe and feed themselves economically. Thus they are being taught to be industrious, to be self-supporting, self-respecting and self-reliant. Dr. Washington stated that this was shown by the manner in which the negroes are branching out in many new lines of industry. They are conducting a great many drug stores, and of late have established a very considerable number of banks which are conducted entirely by negroes.

They are rapidly embracing the educational opportunities offered them and so great is the success of the Tuskegee Institute in its various lines of work and so ready do the negroes respond to the instruction given for their industrial uplift that it is a self-evident fact that nothing is needed to bring the negroes of the south to a higher level of civilization than men and women of kind that as being done by the Tuskegee Institute. Dr. Washington pointed out that the cost per capita of education in the south is not more than one-half that in the north. The percentage of illiterates in the south is 55 while in the north it is 15. In 1905, in Russia, the illiterates were 75 and in the United States, according to the large audience, he was literally applauded at the close.

Nearly all cathartics or laxative medicines ultimately do harm to the human system because they act in such a drastic manner as to drain the body fluids from either the liver, intestines or the large bowel. Calomel drains the liver, exhausts it, causing weakness and future constipation. Candy laxatives, syrups, salts and mineral waters drain the small intestines causing abnormal secretions and inflammation while aloe drains and irritates the large bowel causing griping and pain.

Hemorrhoids of this kind must be taken in ever increasing doses because soon causes the membrane or mucus surfaces of the liver and bowels to harden and close the pores from which known as cascaraoyal pills (Blackburn's) is scientifically compounded so that the entire system is acted upon in a mild tonic manner and then no simple organ is depended on to relieve constipation. A mild, balmy, pleasurable physic is the result, as cascaraoyal pills are made of such well known drugs as castor oil, cascara, wild lemon, licorice, sassafras, squalor, ginger and the like. This cascaraoyal pills purifies the blood and acts as a mild tonic too. The Blackburn Products Co., of Dayton, Ohio, will gladly send a free package to any one who suffers from the baneful effects of constipation and the reader is advised to write for it. Ten new treatment can be obtained of most any druggist.

FOREST FIRES

ILLUMINATED DOZEN VILLAGES
IN MAINE

HOULTON, Me., June 10.—Nearly a dozen villages and hamlets in the boundary counties of Aroostook and Washington in Maine, and York and Carleton in New Brunswick, were illuminated last night with the blaze of threatening forest fires. The situation, however, was generally more favorable last night than during the day. The combat with the dread element claimed one human victim, a boy 15 years old, who was burned to death while trying to save his father's cattle at Edmundston. A general estimate of the territory devastated up to midnight, places the figures at 30,000 acres, nearly 50 square miles.

With Calais as its center a territory comprising nearly 15,000 acres of valuable timber land succumbed to the ravages of four distinct fires, now in their second or third day of burning. The village of Bath, in Carleton county, N. B., was threatened with destruction by a fire which destroyed several buildings, together with some live stock. A general store and Gilbertson's hotel, went the way of the timberland, and last night nothing was left but ashes. The fire was controlled at midnight.

A long, copious rain is believed to be the only adequate means for subduing the fires, and this has now been lacking for several weeks.

STAR PITCHER

Is Criss of St. Louis Team

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—One of the big surprises of the season is the change that has come over Pitcher Criss of the St. Louis American. Last year Criss twirled a poor article of ball, but was kept on the payroll because of his great pinch hitting ability. He more than made good and wound up the season with a percentage of .341. This season his game is just the opposite. He has fallen off woefully in his batting, but is pitching a grand article of ball. In a recent game against Boston Criss struck out 12 men. Manager McAlister says that Criss will come near leading the winning twirlers at the end of the season.

number will be below the highest standards. Lovers of romantic dramatic subjects will be more than pleased with "The Victim of Cremona," a touching story of love and sacrifice with its scene laid in Italy. The play will contribute the best carnival parade picture ever made in "The Nice Carnival," a most beautiful picture of the greatest festival of its kind in the world. The songs and slingers are very much worth while, for they are the very best to be had. One thing worthy of note is that the theatre is perfectly ventilated without any draft, which is so dangerous at this time of the year.

STAR THEATRE

Rev. Mr. Murphy, Blanche Ring and the Georgia minstrels were on the new bill at the Star theatre this afternoon for the first time. Miss Tangany sang a charming song, "I Don't Care," and a touching story of love and sacrifice with its scene laid in Italy. The play will contribute the best carnival parade picture ever made in "The Nice Carnival," a most beautiful picture of the greatest festival of its kind in the world. PITCHER RUCKER

Is Playing in Hard Luck

BROOKLYN, June 10.—Nap Rucker, the star left hand pitcher of the Brooklyn team, is the champion hard luck twirler of the National league. In nearly every game this and last season Rucker has pitched a grand ball, but for some reason he does not seem to be able to win a big majority of his games. Sometimes his teammates fail to give him good support in the field. If not that, the team takes a slump in batting. Last year Rucker lost more games by one run than any other pitcher in the national league. With good backing there is little doubt that Rucker would be well up among the winning twirlers at the end of the season.

JACK O'BRIEN

Knocked Out by Stanley Ketchel

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Stanley Ketchel, the middle-weight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien in the third round last night, thus accomplishing a feat that Jack Johnson, the heavy-weight champion, failed to achieve in six rounds some three weeks ago. The fight was stopped in the second minute of the third round, after O'Brien had been knocked down twice in the second round and once in the third, and was almost unable to raise his hands to defend himself.

DIAMOND NOTES

It is understood that a special meeting of the N. E. league will be held today to take action on the affairs of the Lowell club. Those who profess to know state that a change will be made within a few days and the first man with the money will get the team.

LOWELL TRIMMED

Fail River Won By Score of 1 to 0

There were about one hundred baseball enthusiasts at Washington park this afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. A new player, Mickey Finn, formerly of the Northampton team of the Connecticut league appeared in a Lowell uniform and it is expected that Mickey will be a valuable addition to the local team. In the first inning he assisted in a double play and the first time he came to the bat he slammed the leather out for a two bagger.

LOWELL TRIMMED

It was expected that President Murphy of the league would be in attendance at the game but he did not put in an appearance.

LOWELL TRIMMED

Whitridge and Boyle were in the points for Lowell, while the battery for the visitors was composed of Leonard and Fisher.

LOWELL TRIMMED

Umpire McLaughlin acted as decision maker.

LOWELL TRIMMED

Fall River scored a run in the first inning. Nichols drew a base on balls. A single by Messenger sent him to second and he scored on Bowcock's single.

LOWELL TRIMMED

Up to the fifth inning there was no more scoring on either side. Lowell got a man on second and third twice but failed to score. Fall River made two double plays and Lowell made one during the first four innings, there being sharp fielding on both sides during the early part of the game.

LOWELL TRIMMED

The game went along rapidly with nary a run after the first inning. Lowell played an errorless game while Fall River made an error. There was sharp fielding on both sides, five double plays being made.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE TRAGEDIES.

It is now believed that the insane outbreak by a butcher in the North slaughter house at Sonerville last Saturday resulting in the death of five people and the serious injury of three others was brought on by the nagging by the maniac's fellow workmen. The nature of his work was sufficient to affect a weak mind, for he had the unpleasant occupation of sticking hogs sent to him on an overhead pulley, at the rate of one every few seconds. When to the effect of this gruesome work on a sensitive mind were superadded the gibes of fellow workmen, some idea may be had as to the cause of the unfortunate man's outbreak. There can be no question as to his insanity, however, for he killed his best friends which is the usual aim of violent maniacs. He may have some hereditary tendency to insanity, and if so, of course nothing was needed but some exciting cause to overthrow his mind.

THE SUCCESS OF THE RINGLINGS.

The five Ringling brothers whose circus appears here tomorrow have had remarkable success in the show business. Their career since boyhood has a valuable lesson for those who are looking for the mainsprings of success. One of the secrets of their success is, that they are men of brains. The next is that they have worked loyally together. Unfortunately it is far too seldom that five or six brothers cling together in one line of business as have the Ringlings. They got their first inspiration to enter the show business from seeing Obadiah Green's aggregation of "World Wonders" unloaded from a small show boat at the little town of McGregor, Ia., in 1874. In 1888 they started their first railroad show; in the nineties they began to excite the jealousy of the biggest shows on earth, and now they own those big shows, the Barnum circus and the Forepaugh and Sells, having secured what is undoubtedly the finest circus in the world.

It seems but a short time since the Ringlings were here with a one-ring circus, small to be sure but it had originality and organization that indicated the operation of superior management. Even that small show reflected the genius of the Ringlings.

Where there are five, six, seven or ten boys in one family it is a splendid idea for them all to embark in one business, not necessarily the circus business, for that field is well stocked at present, but manufacturing, or mercantile pursuits or even the business of publishing a newspaper. Too often it happens that large families of boys instead of uniting their efforts in one business, scatter in different directions, none of them accomplishing anything of importance. Had the Ringlings scattered thus their success would probably have been much less than it is today.

FOR THE PURIFICATION OF RIVERS.

All over this country there is a movement to prevent the further pollution of rivers and streams by making them the outlet for the sewage of cities and towns. This movement has been brought to the front by the state authorities in Ohio, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, Florida and other states for the purification of their principal rivers.

The state board of health of Massachusetts has been agitating the matter for some years with a view to stopping the pollution of the Merrimack and other rivers now used to carry the sewage of cities to the sea. Last year the question of purifying the Merrimack river came up in the legislature and was sidetracked through the influence of cities that would be put to a vast expense if prevented from emptying their sewers into the river. Report after report has shown the need of legislative action in order to bring about the purification of the Merrimack which in its course receives the sewage of Manchester, Nashua, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill together with that of a number of small towns scattered along the banks from Manchester to the sea.

Lowell is perhaps the one city most opposed to the legislation proposed for the purification of the river. Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport are in favor of the change in spite of the fact that it would entail considerable expense upon all of them. The expense they would have to incur, however, would not be nearly so great as that which would fall upon Lowell as a result of changing her system of sewerage.

Lowell seems to escape the bad results of the impurities of the river that are reported from other cities. We have no typhoid worthy of mention; while Lawrence has had several epidemics within the past decade. This, no doubt, is explained by the fact that Lowell has a water supply that is unexcelled for purity. It is drawn from driven wells, and there is no better water in the state. Lawrence on the contrary uses the river water after putting it through a process of filtration which, if we are to judge from the typhoid outbreaks, does not rid the water of its impurities.

The state board of health has been seeking the authority of the legislature to go ahead and adopt such measures as it may see fit for the purification of rivers, but thus far it has not been invested with that authority. It has made investigations that show very clearly and emphatically the necessity of some step to bring about the purification of the rivers in the interest of public health as well as for the pleasure and amusement of the people in the cities along the river banks.

Representative Conley of Lowell has introduced a bill in the legislature, the object of which is to make the state board of health merely an advisory body to the legislature in all matters appertaining to the purification of the rivers. Representative Conley's object, no doubt, is to prevent the adoption of any radical measure by which the city of Lowell might be called upon very suddenly to incur an expenditure of millions of dollars for the purpose of providing a means of disposing of the city sewage without emptying it into the river as at present.

It has been estimated by experts that it would cost two or three million dollars to establish a complete system of sewage reduction for this city. The matter of stopping the pollution of the Merrimack river is one that must be worked out gradually by the joint action of New Hampshire and this state inasmuch as both are equally interested in having the river water purified as they are equally responsible at the present time for its pollution.

The city of Lowell may as well get ready to meet this problem as best she can because it is certainly coming to the front and cannot be stayed off more than another year at most if the health authorities of this and other states continue to agitate the subject as they have been doing for two years past. Unless we lag behind in the march of progress in public sanitation, the river must be purified and no city, much less the state of Massachusetts, can afford to adopt any unprogressive course in a matter so vitally affecting the public welfare.

THE BIG CIRCUS GREAT DAMAGE

Will Show in This City Tomorrow Done to the Canadian Canal

New York city was electrified when in March it had its first glimpse of Ringling Brothers' circus. Madison Square Garden was too small to hold the crowds that sought admission, and the newspapers said the performance was the best ever seen in Manhattan. Just as the show was presented there at the Garden it will be seen here tomorrow, not one detail being missing from the wonderful bill that charmed the public of the great metropolis of America.

The first of the five long trains bearing the circus is expected to arrive shortly after midnight. By seven o'clock tomorrow morning twelve acres of the city's real estate will be under canvas and the flags of the greatest circus of all times will be tossing in the breeze. The down-town ticket office will be located in the Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and reserved seats and admissions can be bought there all day at the same price charged at the regular wagon.

The new street parade is set for ten o'clock in the forenoon and it will pass over the usual route. It is the greatest display ever made by the Ringling Brothers' outfit having been made in the forenoon workshops of the circus at Stoke-On-Trent, England. The entire world has contributed to the elegant and it is nearly three miles long.

There will be two performances here, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 at night, the night show being exactly the same as that of the afternoon. The program is the most of all times. Briefly stated, here is what will be seen: The Arthur Saxton Trio of strong men, any one of whom is stronger than was Samson; the Selman Performing Horses, that drink from glasses, skip the rope and push cart other around in immense beer barrels; the "Tumbler" Performing Stations that harness and unharness themselves; Rothello, the wonderful Spanish wire dancer; the climax of all thrillers, the double somersaulting act of Miss Rocher; the most interesting zoological garden in the world, a new opening spectacle and a performance of such striking proportions and such excellence as to surprise the warmest admirers of the circus.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

The Boys' Brigade of the First Trinitarian Congregational church will have an exhibition and prize drill on Wednesday evening. The brass band from the Middlesex county training school will furnish the music. Captain Walter R. Jeyes, captain of Company G, is the drill master, and the exhibition promises to be excellent.

Sunday, June 13th, will be observed as Children's Sunday by the First Trinitarian Congregational church with special services. At 10:30 a. m. there will be a special children's service with singing of beautiful music by a children's choir of 100 voices in the choir loft. A large number of young people will be received into the membership of the church, and many little children will be presented by their parents for baptism. The sermon by the pastor on "Christian Nurture" will be appropriate to the occasion. At 12:00 m. there will be promotional exercises in the Sunday school, with all departments gathered in the auditorium. There will be promotion from the Cradle roll to the kindergarten, kindergarten to primary, primary to intermediate, intermediate to senior.

At five p. m. there will be a special celebration of the communion. At six p. m. a union meeting of all the departments of the Christian Endeavor societies of the church, and also the anniversary for those who have united with the church on flower Sunday in former years. At seven p. m. Mr. Kennington will give the first in a series of brief Sunday evening lectures on "Religion and Medicine." The lecture next Sunday evening will be on "Conversion." This lecture will be followed on successive Sunday evenings at seven o'clock with lectures on the following subjects: June 20th, "The Mind and Body"; June 27th, "Nervousness"; July 4th, "Fears and Worries"; July 11th, "Habit and the Will"; July 18th, "Faith and Prayer"; July 25th, "The Good Physician."

SAULE STE MARIE, Mich., June 10. —With all the weight of Lake Superior behind it, an ungoverned torrent of water rushed last night through the $4,000,000 Canadian canal, built to carry vessels around the impassable rapids of the Saint Marie's river. The entire fall of approximately 20 feet is concentrated in the lock which was wrecked yesterday when the steamer Perry G. Walker of Gilechrist fleet, rammed her bow through the lower gate. The canal encased within its walls this evening a tremendous spectacle, including two water falls and a big whirl pool.

The upper gates were open when the Walker crushed against the lower gates and the tremendous power of the rapids was given instant play. The steamer Assiniboya, a Canadian Pacific passenger liner, moored within the lock chamber, was torn away from her moorings. Liding on the crest of the flood, she jammed the Walker from her path and her port anchor ripped a hole in the Walker's side. The liner's engine crew put on full steam ahead in a desperate endeavor to give the big vessel steerage way and with her wheelsmen battling to overcome the swirling currents the Assiniboya swept into the open reaches of the river below.

The Assiniboya's cargo shifted and this gave her a considerable list and several plates on her port side forward of amidships were loosened. The Walker was whirled around several times and finally landed on a shoal out of the canal. It is said she is undamaged below the water-line.

The ore-laden steamer Crescent City of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, which was just entering the locks from Lake Superior, when the accident occurred, was swept down stream like a feather. She overtook the Assiniboya and struck the latter two glancing blows and after having a great hold torn in her side she swept past the broken lower gate. Tugs caught her and towed her to the American side, where she settled to the bottom.

Both the upper gates of the lock and one lower gate were wrenched from their moorings. The other gate still hangs to its fastenings, twisted and broken.

The loss to the Canadian government will probably reach $250,000, and the damage to the Crescent City is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the steamer Walker and Assiniboya was comparatively light.

Captain Mosher of the steamer Walker declares that the accident was caused by his engineer making a mistake and throwing his lever to "full speed ahead" on the captain's signal to "back up".

It is believed that the American locks here are capable of carrying all the traffic under the present conditions of the shipping business.

WILLIAM GRAFF

Optimistic Cripple Making Tour of World

William Graff, a cripple, is in Lowell and he wants you to assist him to go a place where he can find a cure for paralytic rheumatism. Of all the optimistic cripples that ever lived, William Graff is probably the most optimistic of them all. He is now bound on a trip around the world in a wheel chair of his own invention and one that he made with his left hand. His right arm is useless as are his lower limbs, yet this man is as full of hope as though his health was the best.

William Graff was in this city about two years ago and was mentioned the fact in these columns with the result that he received generous assistance here. BITTER DEFEAT

SUFFERED BY THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—Anti-saloon forces in Ohio suffered a bitter defeat yesterday when Youngstown, with 50,000 inhabitants and the remainder of Mahoning county, voted in special election to retain the saloon. The vote in the 34 city and county precincts was: "Wet" 11,232; "Dry" 9263.

In the county where much was expected by the anti-saloon forces, only 9263 majority was obtained. Ten thousand persons packed the public square last night and cheered the returns showing the partial election returns. The principal streets were made safe by processions of automobiles running at high speed and filled with yelling men. Chief of Police McDowell issued orders that all saloons be kept closed until this morning, and is keeping his entire force of 50 men on duty to prevent disorder.

THE PRIZE DRILL

The prize drill of Company F of the Fifth Massachusetts Infantry, United Boys' Brigade was held last night at the First Trinitarian Congregational church in Dutton street. The vestry was well filled with members of the church and friends of the members of the company.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the company appeared on the floor. The members were attired in white negligee shirts and dark trousers. Capt. Chester E. Wheeler, attired in the uniform of a commissioned officer of the High school regiment, was in command of the company. The lieutenant of the company were George H. Upton and Claude Ritter.

In the company drill the company was put through various movements. At the conclusion of the drill by the entire company a squad of 14 picked men was marched out on the floor and put through the prize drill.

The judges' work was difficult. The three men who decided the fate of the contestants were Sergt. Frank Hotchkiss and Corporals George Crowell and A. Grenier of Company G of the Sixth Infantry, M. V. M.

The squad was cut three times. The 14 men who first came out were picked at an elimination drill on Monday night. They were First Sergt. S. Crandall and Sergts. H. Taylor, S. Morrill, R. Smith, M. Porter and E. Dearth, Corporals F. Batchelder, E. Huse, R. McCullough and H. Sunbury and Privates Gillespie, Fox, Hood and W. Moehrie.

Finally it was announced that Sergt. Stanwood Morrill was the winner of the first prize. To the accompaniment of a storm of applause the young soldier stepped to the front, and Capt. Walter R. Jeyes, instructor of the company, presented the trophy with just the necessary appropriate words.

The prize was a silver medal in the shape of a Greek cross and bearing an inscription telling of the event for which it was awarded, with a place left vacant for the inscription of the winner's name.

Corp. Royal McCullough who drilled in an excellent manner received honorable mention.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian for Pennsylvania, and head of the department of veterinary medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, was found overcome by illuminating gas yesterday at his home.

Physicians at the University hospital say that Dr. Pearson has a chance to recover, but are not so confident about his mother.

Dr. Pearson arose in the night to assist his mother, who was ill. While waiting for some water to heat on a gas burner he sat in an arm chair holding her hand. Overcome by fatigue he fell into a doze and the wind blew out the gas.

LAWRENCE MEN

Entered Pleas of Guilty to Certain Indictments

SALEM, June 10.—Pleas of guilty to certain counts of the indictments against them were entered in the superior court here today by Franklin Butler, Jr., William Kimball, Fred Stone and Henry Garity, all of Lawrence, who were indicted in connection with the alleged larceny of wool valued at $18,000 from the mills of the American Woolen Co. at Lawrence. It is expected that the cases will not be called for sentence or for possible trial on the counts to which the men pleaded guilty until the September term of court. The bail under which the men have been at liberty was continued.

500,000 PEOPLE

Witnessed the Funeral Procession of M. Chauchard

PARIS, June 10.—Not for several years has Paris witnessed such a spectacle of magnificence as was seen today at the funeral of the merchant, Chauchard, from the church of the Madeleine. M. Chauchard was the proprietor of the Magasin du Louvre, the well known department store, and died June 4, leaving a vast fortune. The church was besieged and more than a half million people crowded the streets along which the funeral procession was to take its way. While the good taste of M. Chauchard's friends brought about the suppression of the procession of the deceased, the obsequies were carried out on a royal scale. Starting from his late residence in the Rue Velasquez the imposing procession literally forced its way through the streets to the Madeleine. The hearse which was drawn by six black horses was preceded by a group of mourners from three thousand employees of the Louvre store. The group of mourners behind the hearse consisted entirely of beneficiaries under the will of M. Chauchard and his servants. A single carriage with close drawn blinds was occupied by Madame Bourlain, who had been a close friend of M. Chauchard for something like thirty years.

THE "PROGRESSISTS"

Determined to Continue Their Fight in the Senate

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The "progressists" came into the senate today determined to continue their fight although the vote taken indicates that the committee on finance will be able to maintain a majority of 19 or 20 on all the provisions it had recommended. Shortly after the senate met a vote of 31 to 41 was cast against the contention of Mr. Dilliver that only the wool in yarn should be taxed thus upholding the finance committee. Nine republicans, Messrs. Brewster, Brown, Burkett, Clark, Cummings, Dilliver, La Follette and Nelson voted against the committee as did Foster, La Follette, Nelson and Mr. McNary, cast his vote with the republicans in support of the committee. Continuing his effort to tax only the wool in fabric, Mr. Dilliver made party of senator Mr. Dilliver offered a substitute for that purpose for the paragraph relating to cloth, knit and other fabrics and manufactures made in whole or in part of wool. He insisted that it was practicable to assess the wool in the fabric and commenting on his proposal with his numerous allusion to peculiarities in the wool law. Even cotton cloth with wool does not wool, said he, there were under the law 100,000,000 yards of cloth which would be taxed on the full duty that would be levied on it if it were wool. "The senator wants to lower the limit on that point," said Mr. Dilliver. "I hope that the senator will not be misled by this statement. I am not at all familiar with the wool law." Mr. Dilliver's motion was rejected by a vote of 19 to 41. Mr. Dilliver's motion was rejected by a vote of 19 to 41.

Decides Spalding House is Exempt From Taxes

Judge Bell this morning handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Molly Varnum chapter. Daughters of the American Revolution against the city of Lowell for exemption of taxes paid under protest on the Spalding house in Pawtucket street. This was a test case heard before Judge Bell in the jury waived session of the superior court wherein the plaintiff corporation claimed that it should be exempt from taxation on the ground that it is a literary and benevolent corporation. It was agreed that the organization was one which educated people to be patriotic and the question arose whether this was a work of benevolence. It was also brought out that the plaintiffs did a certain amount of literary work including the preservation of historical sites, etc. Albert S. Howard appeared for the plaintiffs while the city was represented by William W. Duncan.

STABLE ENTERED STEAMER ASHORE

Team Stolen---Parties Arrested in Lawrence Numbering 135 Men

The stable of the United States Bohlen & Shuttle company at the corner of Rogers and Perry streets was broken into late last night or early this morning and a valuable dark bay horse, weighing about 1100 pounds, brass plate harness with brass trimmings and Concord top buggy were stolen. The break was discovered about 2:30 o'clock this morning by a watchman who immediately notified the local police. The thieves pried open the lock on a large gate leading to the stable and then gained an entrance to the stable by forcing a lock on one of the doors. When Lieut. Martin Connors was notified of the robbery he immediately telephoned the local patrolman and towns surrounding Lowell to be on the lookout for the outfit. This morning the local police received a telephonic message from Lawrence stating that the horse and wagon had been recovered and two men and a woman who were in the carriage at the time were placed under arrest and would be held until the Lowell police sent for them. Inspectors Martin Maher and Charles Laflamme went to the down-river city and returned with the trio about noon. The police station was brought to the police station where they gave their names as Leon M. Snell, aged 15 years, Lucy E. Snell, aged 15 years, wife of the latter, and Joseph Bourke, aged 15 years. Mr. and Mrs. Snell reside at 3 rear of 16 Agawam street while Bourke lives at 675 Dutton street. Bourke has been released from the Concord Reformatory last March after having served two years at that institution. Neither Snell nor his wife ever has been brought before the police. According to the story told by the police the two men and the woman went to the stable about 10:20 o'clock last night and with the assistance of a pinch bar succeeded in forcing the lock on the big gate and later the lock on the stable door. They drove over the road to Lawrence, but fearful that they might attract attention by entering the city during the small hours of the morning stopped about a mile outside of the city and about 7 o'clock made their way to the stable of L. Thorough at 167 South Broadway where they endeavored to sell the outfit for $50. The ridiculously low figure set by the people caused the stableman to become suspicious and he immediately telephoned the police, but succeeded in keeping the trio in conversation until the police arrived. Patrolman Hart was sent from the station and took the three to the station and held them until Inspectors Maher and Laflamme arrived. When searched at the police station it was found that one of the men had a revolver while the other had a pinch bar. They will be arraigned in police court tomorrow morning on charges of breaking and entering and larceny.

THE GOULD CASE RANGE EXPLODED

Trial Begun in New York Today Two Policemen Were Badly Injured

NEW YORK, June 10.—The suit of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, on the ground of abandonment was begun today. Mr. and Mrs. Gould were both in court and although the trial was a few days apart, no sign of recognition passed between them. TYPO JOURNAL

PAYS A TRIBUTE TO H. O'SULLIVAN OF THIS CITY

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan, one of Lowell's leading business men, most active in all affairs that tend to promote the interests of Lowell, is known as the "live rubber man" is paid a tribute by the Typographical Journal in the current issue of that paper. Mr. O'Sullivan is a member of the Typographical union, and union men throughout the city will read the following with interest: Elbert Hubbard, of East Aurora, N. Y., devotes a leading article of the May issue of his publication to a controversy he has had with Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, Mass. The latter had advised in Hubbard's paper until his attention had been called to the fact that it was non-union. Mr. O'Sullivan, being a member of the typographical union, very naturally withdrew his patronage, and his action brought forth the alleged malicious and vituperative attack from the industrial whose admirers are principally noted for their long hair and low brows. The Lowell manufacturer declares that "we are always glad to serve people with whom we agree and from whom we differ; but we are never willing to lose the trade of people who take their law, gospel and morals from Elbert Hubbard."

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The proposed 14 foot deep waterway project from St. Louis to the Gulf received today a blow when the board of engineers reported to congress that such a waterway is not desirable. WILLEMSTAD, Curaçao, June 10.—President Gomez of Venezuela has said he would allow Celestine Castro, brother of the deposed president of the republic to return to Venezuela provided that he will turn over to the government the 500 rifles he has gathered together on Colombian territory. Celestine Castro came to Willemstad about three weeks ago and requested the Venezuelan government to permit him to return to Caracas. In the meantime he was served with a notice of expulsion from Willemstad, but managed to secure an extension of this order.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez with 526 passengers and a crew of 135 men ran aground on the sand beach at Fire Island last night and lay on the beach all night pumpeled by heavy seas. Rockets warned the decimated summer life savers crew at point of Woodcliff lifesaving station but they could do nothing all daylight. Early today tugs reached the stranded steamer, a lifeboat was launched through the surf and the work of transferring the women and children passengers to the wrecking tugs was begun. The sea was still too high to permit the passengers to be landed on shore. The steamer appeared to be undamaged and in no immediate danger as the sea was subsiding. Most of the passengers were from Italian and Spanish ports bound for Vera Cruz where the steamer intended to proceed after touching at New York. The Lopez lay on a sand bar about 1900 feet off shore when the wreck was discovered by Edward Baker, son of Captain Charles Baker, captain of the Point of Woods lifesaving station. Captain Baker was absent but his son soon assembled a volunteer crew of fishermen. Several attempts were made to launch the lifeboat but the surf was running too high and the vessel lay so far from the shore that the life savers were unable to shoot a line over her to set up the breeches buoy apparatus. A request was forwarded to New York city for wrecking tugs and within a few hours two of them reached the scene and passed lines to the stranded steamer. They were unable to remove her and the Lopez then hoisted signals asking that small boats be sent from shore to take off the passengers who were frightened. After daybreak acting Captain Baker and his men got several surf boats launched and the transfer of the passengers to the wrecking tugs began. Women and children were taken on first and the men followed. The rescue work proceeded rapidly. The Antonio Lopez is a steel steamer 420 feet long. She is owned by the Compania Transatlantica de Barcelona.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

Addressed Members of the High School Alumni

The third reunion of the alumni of the Lowell high school, at which was represented every class from the early '50's to the present day, was held in high school hall last night and the event was a very successful, very instructive and very enjoyable one. In one chain, so to speak, there were linked all the classes to be graduated from the school and the class rooms and large hall presented a pretty and interesting scene.

Solon W. Stevens, president of the newly incorporated association, and of the class of 1857, presided. Mr. Stevens spoke of the great men that Lowell high school had turned out and recalled the fact that just 50 years ago the late Gov. Frederic T. Greenhalgh had been the successful candidate and received the first Carney medal offered as a prize for scholarship. Mr. Stevens said:

"In addition to this expression of welcome, I want to add an expression of congratulation in the fact that the Lowell high school association declaration welcomes you tonight as a body corporate, organized under the laws of the commonwealth of Massachusetts and that the charter by which it is hanging on the wall on the south wall of this hall, the association, we have acted as a voluntary association, and our reunions have been very his subject that occasionally he rises to a degree of enthusiasm that has all the effect of a sermon.

After having expressed his appreciation of the privilege and responsibility conferred upon him, Dr. Washington proceeded with his subject, "Success of Negro Education." He said he wanted to convince the American people that the negro could read and use effectively and practically education. He allowed it was very much with a race as with an individual that the nation like the individual has to pass through its youthful period, and that the negro is now in that silly period of life. He said that the black race like the individual has learned to get down to business and that throughout the country the negro is exhibiting a common sense and a determination to get on that has never before exhibited in so large degree. Adding to this he said:

pleasant and delightful; but tonight we come before you and ask students who have studied in this school to join the alumni principally because we were before you as an organized body."

In presenting Dr. Booker T. Washington, the principal speaker. Mr. Stevens referred to him as "one of the most remarkable men in this or any other country."

Born in slavery just 50 years ago, in spite of pinched poverty, in spite of bitter prejudice, in spite of obstacles everywhere, he has managed at times to crush the ambition of the strongest heart, he has pushed himself by pluck and brains, from the lowliest society into a genuine fellowship with the highest educators in Europe and America. "Today he stands before the American people as one of the most prominent educators in the land. He is a man who is devoting his life to the education of his people along the lines of honesty, intelligence and efficiency. He asks no favoritism for his race, but he does claim, and he has a right to claim a square deal and fair play for his unfortunate race; and this will be given him."

"I think you will find that in spite of all of his weak points, in spite of all of his ills, in the more fundamental things of life the negro of this country is more like the native white man than the native of any other race that comes into America from foreign countries. He more readily absorbs American civilization. He more readily adapts himself to the conditions that exist in the community. He more nearly digests ideas of American civilization. So aside from the matter of history and the color of his skin, he makes himself more like one with you, than any other race does not cling to his blanket, as does the American Indian; he does not wear his hair in a braid, as the Chinaman does. He throws aside his old habits and dresses as the people do in the community in which he lives."

The speaker wanted it understood that the negro understands and appreciates American civilization and that he is ready at any time, if need be, to lay down his life in defence of the stars and stripes. He said that he appreciated fully the strong points and weak points of his race but after considering their condition, their prospective

Dr. Washington's address was the feature of the meeting.

It was one of his characteristic discourses on the progress of the negro race and the work of the Tuskegee Institute as the great lever of that progress.

Dr. Washington is a vigorous speaker and his audience, including a large number of little children and jests into his discourse that kept the audience in good humor and prevented them from getting weary through his long discussion. He certainly showed that the Tuskegee Institute is doing splendid work in the line of practical industrial training, principally agriculture and the arts of home building and of providing food and clothing. The institute has 3600 acres of well tilled land.

from every point of view, he said there was great hope for the future of the people in this country, and it was up to the people of the nation to realize that they have, in connection with the uplifting of the negro, a privileged duty and responsibility.

He said that the negro people in the south, for the most part, work; but the trouble is they are so ignorant and inexperienced that they do not know how to utilize the products of their labor. He said they are down in the darkness but they realize and want to get up.

The saloons, he said, were a great detriment to the negro people. It was responsible for many of the lynchings and the crimes that led to the lynchings. But the southern states are banishing the saloons and sending them up north.

The speaker called attention to the fact that since the negro has been freed he has not called upon the nation for aid in the form of education, clothing, food or shelter. He referred to the number of institutions for the unfortunate in our cities and said that in Alabama, with a population of 23,000 black people, he had not seen a single institution. He spent by the public for the care of those people.

cottages, how to clothe and feed themselves economically. Thus they are being taught to be industrious, to be self-supporting, self-respecting and self-reliant. Dr. Washington stated that this was shown by the manner in which the negroes are bringing out in many new lines of industry. They are conducting a great many drug stores, and of late have established a very considerable number of banks which are conducted entirely by negroes.

They are readily embracing the educational opportunities offered them and so great is the success of the Tuskegee Institute in its various lines of work and so readily do the negroes respond to the training that they are receiving that industrial uplift that it is a self-evident fact that nothing is needed to bring the

ILLUMINATED DOZEN VILLAGES IN MAINE

HOULTON, Me., June 10.—Nearly a dozen villages and hamlets in the boundary counties of Aroostook and Washington in Maine, and York and Carleton in New Brunswick, were illuminated last night with the blaze of threatening forest fires. The situation, however, was generally more favorable last night than during the day. The combat with the dread element claimed one human victim, a boy 15 years old, who was burned to death while trying to save his father's cattle at Edmondston. A general estimate of the territory devastated up to midnight, places the figures at 30,000 acres, nearly 10 square miles.

With Calais as its centre, a territory comprising nearly 10,000 acres of valuable timber land succumbed to the ravages of four distinct fires, now in their second or third day of burning. The village of Bath, in Carleton county, N. B., was threatened with destruction by a fire which destroyed several buildings, together with some live stock. A general store and Gilbertson's hotel went the way of the timberland, and last night nothing was left but ashes. The fire was controlled at midnight.

A long, copious rain is believed to be the only adequate means for subduing the fires, and this has now been lacking for several weeks.

MORE GRADUATES SEN. CULDERSON

Class of Eight Nurses Asked to Have Sugar Trust Prosecuted

WASHINGTON, June 10.—So that Congress might keep the run of the sugar trust litigation, Senator Culderon yesterday printed in the record a newspaper report of the compromise made by the American Sugar Refining Co. and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co. In this connection he made a statement of an effort by him through the means of a senate resolution to have the department of justice prosecute the sugar trust for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law which he says has been fruitless.

Previous to the opening of the exercises the graduating class was photographed on the steps at the front entrance to the hospital. There was music by Hibbard's orchestra and the only thing to conflict in anyway with arrangements were the shower clouds that hovered above.

The exercises opened with a selection by the orchestra. Prayer was offered by Mr. S. W. Cummings of the First Baptist church. Then there was more music followed by remarks by Dr. St. John Chamberlain of St. Anne's church. There was another selection by the orchestra and then came the presentation of diplomas and attachment of pins. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Jacob Rogers. The exercises closed with music and benediction.

The young women who graduated were: Elizabeth B. Campbell and Clarice Silk of Lowell; Clara Bell Heath of Georgetown, Mass.; Elizabeth Fitzgerald of Andover; and Mary E. Campbell, Lovena Robinson, Clara N. Robinson and Jessie L. Reid, all of Canada.

There was a goodly attendance of relatives and friends of the graduates and friends of the school.

THE ARGUMENTS

In the Law and Order Case

Arguments in the case of Rev. Chas. A. Merrill, former general secretary of the Lowell Law and Order league against six members of the league: Rev. Mr. Craig, Rev. Mr. Farrin, Rev. Mr. Dean, W. T. S. Bartlett, George W. Putnam and Mrs. E. W. Clark were heard yesterday by Judge Fisher in the civil session of the police court. Lawyer James E. O'Connell argued for the league and lawyer John Leggett for the plaintiff.

At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Fisher said that relative to the bill for furniture he would find in favor of Mr. Merrill. He set a value of $25 on the genealogical table and as to the other articles mentioned in the plaintiff's declaration those that were the property of Mr. Merrill which have not been returned will be.

THE AUTO COURSE

State Highway Engineer Pillsbury, American William E. Bidger, Superintendent of the street department, and President John O. Heintz of the Lowell Automobile club, went over the Lowell auto course yesterday for the purpose of determining what kind of oil should be used on the course where it will be necessary to fill in and make other changes in order to make the course as smooth and safe as possible and at the same time not affect the property of the city of Lowell, town of Tyngsboro or the state highway.

Mr. Heintz will leave Lowell tonight for the purpose of attending the meetings of the Citizens' road advisory board and of being of officers of the A. A. A. to be held in New York tomorrow morning. It is expected that at these meetings final matters relative to the sanctioning of the race will be discussed and that when Mr. Heintz returns to Lowell Friday he will be able to report that the sanction has been granted.

STAR PITCHER

Is Criss of St. Louis Is Playing in Hard Luck

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—One of the big surprises of the season is the change that has come over Pitcher Dots Criss of the St. Louis Americans. Last year Criss twirled a poor article of ball, but was kept on the payroll because of his great pluck to be able to win a big majority of his games. Sometimes his teammates fail to give him good support in the field. If not that, the team takes a slump in batting. Last year Criss lost more games by one run than any other pitcher in the national league. With good backing there is little doubt that Criss would be well up among the winning twirlers at the end of the season.

There were about one hundred baseball enthusiasts at Washington park this afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. A new player, Mickey Finn, formerly of the Northampton team of the Connecticut league appeared in a Lowell uniform and it is expected that Mickey will be a valuable addition to the local team. In the first inning he assisted in a double play and the first time he came to the bat he slammed the leather out for a two bagger.

It was expected that President Murphy of the league would be in attendance at the game but he did not put in an appearance.

Whitledge and Doyle were in the points for Lowell, while the battery for the visitors was composed of Leonard and Fisher.

Umpire McLaughlin acted as decision maker.

Fall River scored a run in the first inning. Nichols drew a base on balls, a single by Messenger sent him to second and he scored on Bowcock's single.

Up to the fifth inning there was no more scoring on either side. Lowell got a man on second and third twice but failed to score. Fall River made two double plays and Lowell made one during the first four innings, there being sharp fielding on both sides during the early part of the game.

The game went along rapidly with many a run after the first inning. Lowell played an errorless game while Fall River made an error. There was sharp fielding on both sides, five double plays being made.

The score:

NARROW ESCAPE

Motorman Stopped Car in Time

Here's a word for the good work of motorman John Murphy. By good presence of mind and quick application of the brakes on a Varnum avenue car due in the square at about 1 o'clock yesterday, he saved a boy's life. While passing city hall a four-year-old boy started from the sidewalk to cross the street directly in front of the car. Motorman Murphy applied the brakes with a suddenness and brought the car up so suddenly that passengers pitched forward in their seats. When the car stopped the fender was brushing against the child's clothes. Women who saw the child start directly in front of the car screamed and men looked the other way, fearing that the little fellow's life would be crushed out beneath the wheels. But John Murphy was onto his job and he saved the lad's life.

JACK O'BRIEN

Knocked Out by Stanley Ketchel

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Stanley Ketchel, the middle-weight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien in the third round last night, thus accomplishing a feat that Jack Johnson, the heavy-weight champion, failed to achieve in six rounds some three weeks ago. The fight was stopped in the second minute of the third round, after O'Brien had been knocked down twice in the second round and once in the third, and was almost unable to raise his hands to defend himself.

The fight was a whirlwind affair from start to finish. Ketchel went after O'Brien from the tap of the gong, and showed that he was determined to achieve a knockout. He devoted his attention to O'Brien's guard down, and had drawn the latter's body until he had been sent in a crashing right in the second round that scored the first knock down. O'Brien got up gamely, but went down flat on his back a few minutes later from a right and a left on the jaw. This time he struggled to his feet at the count of six and two seconds later the gong rang.

The third and last round was brief. Ketchel went in for a knockout. In his anxiety to finish it quickly he was wild and many of his swings went wide of the mark. Finally he cornered O'Brien and sent in a left short arm blow on the jaw that about finished it. O'Brien could not fall because he was pinned up in a corner. He crumpled up on the ropes and clung to Ketchel's neck desperately. Shaking him loose, Ketchel sent in right and left again that made O'Brien groggy. Referee McGugan, seeing O'Brien's condition and wishing to avert a possible serious injury, stopped the fight.

Ketchel was cheered wildly by the crowd, which was packed to comment on his showing as compared with Jack Johnson's against O'Brien, to the disadvantage of the black champion.

Ketchel said after the fight, "I was confident that I could get O'Brien in less than six rounds. I am satisfied with my showing tonight."

O'Brien cut his left arm badly, but was quick to get Ketchel full credit for his quick victory.

The Edsons went "hard all night" yesterday afternoon and proved how easy the Bartlett is to deal with. After nine innings the Edsons were the victors. The final score was 7 to 1 in favor of the Edsons. Roane was on the mound for the winning "Aggie" and pitched admirably, having 15 strikeouts. Roane and Green did the battery work for the Edsons.

Grammar School Notes

The Butler-Edson game which ended in a dispute will be played off on neutral ground in the near future and a hot game is expected.

Joe Lannan, the catcher of the Bartlett, was used in a game at the Bartlett-Edson game yesterday.

The Edsons still lead the Grammar school league, having won all of its games while the Butlers are in second place.

It has been practically decided to hold fall meetings at the local tracks. Even Jamaica and Aqueduct will open their gates for short sessions, so that the sport may continue until the first of November under the present favorable conditions. Sheephead Bay will open the fall campaign as usual. The inaugural stake feature being the rich Futurity.

Another favorable sign, according to turfmen, is the resumption of the annual yearling sales at Sheephead Bay next month. A year ago many breeders either went out of business or shipped their young horses to foreign markets. Those who remained loyal to the American turf, however, say they will soon be rewarded, as the game is slowly recovering its former popularity.

Joe Jeannette and Sandy Ferguson have been matched to box 12 rounds at the Armory club in Boston on June 22. Jeannette got a decision over Ferguson in a 20-round bout in Paris recently, but the latter still insists that the referee was a "burglar." Kid McCoy, who saw the go in Paris between these big men, says: "I was a sorely scrap and that neither showed class. McCoy is organizing a boxing club in Paris and says he will go after all the champions. Sam Harris, who has just arrived from the other side, is said to be McCoy's agent in securing American ring talent.

Leach Cross, the New York boxer, is on his way to California to meet Dick Hyland in a 15-round bout. If Cross wins decisively he says he will challenge Battling Nelson. Cross, however, cannot make 133 pounds ringside, the only weight at which Nelson will make a match.

EX-JUDGE DEWEY

Loses His Suit for $76,450,000

BOSTON, June 10.—The jury which has been hearing the evidence in the suit for libel brought by Ex-Judge Henry S. Dewey against Laurence M. Elliot, N. Jones, Nathaniel N. Thayer, George R. Nutter and John Mason Little of the Good Government association, in the effort to recover $76,450,000 damages for alleged attacks by those men at the time that Dewey was a candidate for mayor, yesterday afternoon ordered to return a verdict for the defendants.

Judge Sherman did not thus order the verdict until four fundamental questions, dealing with the important issues in the case had been answered, after one question all being answered, after one deliberation, in favor of the defendants, the verdict in their favor was ordered.

The questions asked of the jury by the court were, in substance, as follows:

1. Was the charge of fraud and trickery made by Judge Dewey against the defendants true? The answer to this by the jury was in the negative.

2. Were the publications made or authorized by defendants as proved, a reasonable or justifiable answer to the charge?

statements of the plaintiff

The jury answered in the affirmative.

3. Were the defendants in making these statements acting in good faith and without malice? The jury answered "yes."

4. Has the plaintiff suffered any damage directly attributable to these alleged statements? To this the jury replied "no."

Judge Sherman's Statement
In his charge to the jury Judge Dewey said:

"Judge Dewey has a right to seek to be mayor, but when he seeks office by his own volition, the moment he becomes a candidate he opens his character to criticism and when he took the stump he invited all just and fair criticism. So far as the defendants discussed his fitness for office they were within their rights."

"There doesn't seem to be any question but what Judge Dewey threw the first stone. He set on the stump and made an attack on the Good Government association. He said their agents obtained signatures by use of trickery and deceit. So far as I know, that is the first utterance in the case. They denied it. He didn't see fit to take it back and goes on charging these gentlemen who claim to be honorable men."

GREAT EXCITEMENT

Yesterday the A. G. Pollard Dry Goods Co. advertised in The Sun that the annual silk sale would take place this morning, and that silks ordinarily marked at from $1.00 to $1.25 a yard, would be sold for 39 cents a yard. This simple announcement brought forth one of the largest crowds of women that ever assembled at a special sale in this city. The moment the store doors were opened thousands of women thronged the place and while there were dozens of clerks on the counters which were about 75 feet in length, it was almost impossible to wait on the crowds. The management was obliged to telephone to the police station for officers to try and keep back the crowd and maintain order. The women in their anxiety to get these bargains became weak and many fainted. We do not know how long the sale will continue, but already thousands of women have been able to secure these wonderful bargains, and it looks now as if every woman in the city would be wearing a silk dress this summer. The sale is simply phenomenal which goes to prove that the women read the advertisement and that advertising pays.

They want the satisfaction they always have had, as a result of our infinite skill.

The way to get them is to watch the hem. Refuse gloves not marked "Kayser."

SLAUGHTER HOUSE TRAGEDIES.
It is now believed that the insane outbreak by a butcher in the North slaughter house at Somerville last Saturday resulting in the death of five people and the serious injury of three others was brought on by the nagging by the maniac's fellow workmen. The nature of his work was sufficient to affect a weak mind, for he had the unpleasant occupation of sticking hogs sent to him on an overhead pulley, at the rate of one every few seconds. When to the effect of this gruesome work on a sensitive mind were superadded the gibes of fellow workmen, some idea may be had as to the cause of the unfortunate man's outbreak. There can be no question as to his insanity, however, for he killed his best friends which is the usual aim of violent maniacs. He may have some hereditary tendency to insanity, and if so, of course nothing was needed but some exciting cause to overthrow his mind.

THE SUCCESS OF THE RINGLINGS.
The five Ringling brothers whose circus appears here tomorrow have had remarkable success in the show business. Their career since boyhood has a valuable lesson for those who are looking for the main springs of success. One of the secrets of their success is, that they are men of brains. The next is that they have worked loyally together. Unfortunately it is far too seldom that five or six brothers cling together in one line of business as have the Ringlings. They got their first inspiration to enter the show business from seeing Obadiah Green's aggregation of "World Wonders" unloaded from a small show boat at the little town of McGregor, Ia., in 1874. In 1888 they started their first railroad show; in the nineties they began to excite the jealousy of the biggest shows on earth, and now they own those big shows, the Barnum circus and the Forepaugh and Sells, having secured what is undoubtedly the finest circus in the world.
It seems but a short time since the Ringlings were here with a one-ring circus, small to be sure but it had originality and organization that indicated the operation of superior management. Even that small show reflected the genius of the Ringlings.
Where there are five, six, seven or ten boys in one family it is a splendid idea for them all to embark in one business, not necessarily the circus business, for that field is well stocked at present, but manufacturing, or mercantile pursuits or even the business of publishing a newspaper. Too often it happens that large families of boys instead of uniting their efforts in one business, scatter in different directions, none of them accomplishing anything of importance. Had the Ringlings scattered thus their success would probably have been much less than it is today.

FOR THE PURIFICATION OF RIVERS.
All over this country there is a movement to prevent the further pollution of rivers and streams by making them the outlet for the sewage of cities and towns. This movement has been brought to the front by the state authorities in Ohio, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, Florida and other states for the purification of their principal rivers.
The state board of health of Massachusetts has been agitating the matter for some years with a view to stopping the pollution of the Merrimack and other rivers now used to carry the sewage of cities to the sea. Last year the question of purifying the Merrimack river came up in the legislature and was sidetracked through the influence of cities that would be put to a vast expense if prevented from emptying their sewers into the river. Report after report has shown the need of legislative action in order to bring about the purification of the Merrimack which in its course receives the sewage of Manchester, Nashua, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill together with that of a number of small towns scattered along the banks from Manchester to the sea.
Lowell is perhaps the one city most opposed to the legislation proposed for the purification of the river. Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport are in favor of the change in spite of the fact that it would entail considerable expense upon all of them. The expense they would have to incur, however, would not be nearly so great as that which would fall upon Lowell as a result of changing her system of sewerage.

Lowell seems to escape the bad results of the impurities of the river that are reported from other cities. We have no typhoid worthy of mention; while Lawrence has had several epidemics within the past decade. This, no doubt, is explained by the fact that Lowell has a water supply that is unexcelled for purity. It is drawn from driven wells, and there is no better water in the state. Lawrence on the contrary uses the river water after putting it through a process of filtration which, if we are to judge from the typhoid outbreaks, does not rid the water of its impurities.
The state board of health has been seeking the authority of the legislature to go ahead and adopt such measures as it may see fit for the purification of rivers, but thus far it has not been invested with that authority. It has made investigations that show very clearly and emphatically the necessity of some step to bring about the purification of the rivers in the interest of public health as well as for the pleasure and amusement of the people in the cities along the river banks.
Representative Conley of Lowell has introduced a bill in the legislature, the object of which is to make the state board of health merely an advisory body to the legislature in all matters appertaining to the purification of the rivers. Representative Conley's object, no doubt, is to prevent the adoption of any radical measure by which the city of Lowell might be called upon very suddenly to incur an expenditure of millions of dollars for the purpose of providing a means of disposing of the city sewage without emptying it into the river as at present.
It has been estimated by experts that it would cost two or three million dollars to establish a complete system of sewage reduction for this city. The matter of stopping the pollution of the Merrimack river is one that must be worked out gradually by the joint action of New Hampshire and this state inasmuch as both are equally interested in having the river water purified as they are equally responsible in the present time for its pollution.
The city of Lowell may as well get ready to meet this problem as best she can because it is certainly coming to the front and cannot be stayed off more than another year or most if the health authorities of this and other states continue to agitate the subject as they have been doing for two years past. Unless we lag behind in the march of progress in public sanitation, the river must be purified and no city, much less the state of Massachusetts, can afford to adopt any repressive course in a matter so vitally affecting the public welfare.

THE BIG CIRCUS GREAT DAMAGE

Will Show in This City Tomorrow Done to the Canadian Canal

New York city was electrified when in March it had its first glimpse of Ringling Brothers' circus. Madison Square Garden was too small to hold the crowds that sought admission, and the newspapers said the performance was the best ever seen in Manhattan. Just as the show was presented there tomorrow, not one detail being missing from the wonderful bill that charmed the public of the great metropolis of America.
The first of the five long trains bearing the circus is expected to arrive shortly after midnight. By seven tomorrow morning twelve acres of the city's real estate will be under canvas and the flags of the greatest circus of all times will be tossing in the breeze.
The down-town ticket office will be located in the Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and reserved seats and admissions can be bought there all day at the same price charged at the regular wagons.
The new street parade is set for ten o'clock in the forenoon and it will pass over the usual route. It is the greatest street display ever made by the Ringling Brothers, the outfit having been made in the former workshops of the circus at Stoke-On-Trent, England. The entire world has contributed to the pageant and it is nearly three miles long.
There will be two performances here, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 at night, the night show being exactly the same as that of the afternoon. The program is the best of all times. Briefly stated, here is what will be seen: "The Arthur Sax on trip of strong man, any one of whom is stronger than Samson," the Schumann Performing Horses, that drink from glasses, skip the rope and push each other around in immense beer barrels; the Tumbler Performing Stunts that harness and unharness themselves; Robidello, the wonderful Spanish wire dancer; the climax of all chatters, the double acrobatic and automobile act of Miss Roche; the most interesting zoological garden in the world, a new opening spectacle and a performance of such striking proportions and such excellent acting as to arouse the warmest admirers of the circus.

SAULE STE MARIE, Mich., June 10.
—With all the weight of Lake Superior behind it, an uncontrolled torrent of water rushed last night through the $4,000,000 Canadian canal, built to carry vessels around the impassable rapids of the Saint Marie's river. The entire fall of approximately 20 feet is concentrated in the lock which was wrecked yesterday when the steamer Perry G. Walker of Gilechrist fleet, rammed her bow through the lower gate. The canal encased within its walls this evening a tremendous spectacle, including two water falls and a big whirl pool.
The upper gates were open when the Walker crashed open the lower gates and the tremendous power of the rapids was given instant play. The steamer Assiniboia, a Canadian Pacific passenger liner, moored within the lock chamber, was torn away from her moorings. Riding on the crest of the flood, she jammed the Walker from her path and her port anchor ripped a hole in the Walker's side. The liner's engine crew put on full steam ahead in a desperate endeavor to give the big vessel steering way and with her wheelmen battling to overcome the swirling currents the Assiniboia swept into the open reaches of the river below. The Assiniboia's cargo shifted and this gave her a considerable list and several plates on her port side forward of masts were loosened.
The Walker was whirled around several times and finally landed on a shoal out of the channel. It is said she is undamaged below the waterline.
The ore-laden steamer Crescent City of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, which was just entering the locks from Lake Superior, when the accident occurred, was swept down stream like a feather. She overtook the Assiniboia and struck the latter two glancing blows and after having a great hole torn in her side she swept past the broken lower gate. Tugs caught her and towed her to the American side, where she settled to the bottom.
Both the upper gates of the lock and one lower gate were wrenched from their moorings. The other gate still hangs to its fastenings, twisted and broken.
The loss to the Canadian government will probably reach $250,000, and the damage to the Crescent City is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the steamer Walker and Assiniboia was comparatively light.
Captain Hinchey of the steamer Walker declares that the accident was caused by his engineer making a mistake and throwing his lever to "full speed ahead" on the captain's signal to "back up".
It is believed that the American locks here are capable of carrying all the traffic under the present conditions of the shipping business.

WILLIAM GRAFF
Optimistic Cripple Making Tour of World
William Graff, a cripple, is in Lowell and he wants you to assist him to go a place where he can find a cure for paralytic rheumatism. Of all the optimistic cripples that ever lived, William Graff, is probably the most optimistic of them all. He is now bound on a trip around the world in a one-man chair of his own invention and one that he made with his left hand. His right arm is useless as are his lower limbs, yet this man has a full hope as though his health was the best.
William Graff was in this city about two years ago and we mentioned the fact in these columns with the result that he received generous assistance here. He has been a great sufferer from paralytic rheumatism and although he has had relief six different times it has always come back again. He is selling useful articles of his own manufacture. He is of a cheerful disposition and has a smile for everyone. If you think he isn't enthusiastic about his trip round the world just ask him about it.
When he arrives in Germany he intends to take the treatment there that at any rate he will make the trip around the world. He expects to make the trip in seven years. He belongs in Chambersburg, Pa.

BITTER DEFEAT
SUFFERED BY THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE
YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—Anti-saloon forces in Ohio suffered a bitter defeat yesterday when Youngstown, with the inhabitants and the remainder of Mahoning county, voted in special election to retain the saloons. The vote in the 34 city and county precincts was: "Wet" 11,222; "Dry" 9,242. In the county where much was expected by the anti-saloon forces, only 708 majority was obtained.
Ten thousand persons packed the public square last night and cheered the saloonists during the partial election returns. The principal streets were made safe by processions of automobiles running at high speed and filled with yelling men. Chief of Police McLaughlin issued orders that all saloons be kept closed until this morning, and is keeping his entire force of 37 men on duty to prevent disorder.

Of the United Boys Brigade
The prize drill of Company F of the Fifth Massachusetts Infantry, United Boys' Brigade was held last night at the First Trinitarian Congregational church in Dutton street. The vestry was well filled with members of the church and friends of the members of the company.
Shortly after 8 o'clock the company appeared on the floor. The members were attired in white negligee shirts and dark trousers. Capt. Chester E. Wheeler, assisted in the uniform of a commissioned officer of the High School regiment, was in command of the company. The lieutenants of the company were George H. Upton and Claude Ritter.
In the company drill the company was put through various movements. At the conclusion of the drill by the entire company a squad of 14 picked men was marched out on the floor and put through the prize drill.
The judges' work was difficult. The three men who decided the fate of the contestants were Sergt. Frank Hotchkiss and Corporals George Crowell and A. Grenier of Company G of the Sixth Infantry, M. V. M.

GAS BLOWN OUT
DR. PEARSON WAS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS
PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian for Pennsylvania, and head of the department of veterinary medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, was found overcome by illuminating gas yesterday at his home.
Physicians at the University hospital say that Dr. Pearson has a chance to recover, but are not so confident about his mother.
Dr. Pearson arose in the night to assist his mother, who was ill. While waiting for some water to heat on a gas burner he sat in an arm chair holding her hand. Overcome by fatigue he fell into a doze and the wind blew out the gas.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE SEATTLE EXPOSITION, WHERE WEST'S WONDERS ARE ON VIEW

SEATTLE, June 10.—The success of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition from the first has far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the people of the Pacific coast, and the big fair promises to eclipse anything ever held west of the Mississippi except the St. Louis fair. Indeed, the promoters of the Seattle fair are not sure that their show will not draw more people than did the Louisiana Purchase exposition. On the opening day of the

Seattle exposition, there were $2,500 persons on the grounds, and the attendance has steadily kept up. Excursion trains are daily pouring vast multitudes into Seattle, and as the summer advances and the farming contingent sees its way clear to take a holiday there is little doubt that the crowds will increase. As the prosperity of the west is on the up grade and the prospect for crops is excellent, there is no reason why the Seattle show should not reap a harvest of dollars to the very day of its close. Those who have visited every big fair since the Philadelphia Centennial have nothing but praise for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The visiting exhibitors far surpass anything of the kind ever assembled at a similar event. One of the accompanying photographs shows the Cascades, one of the chief wonders of the fair.

MOHAIR CLUB

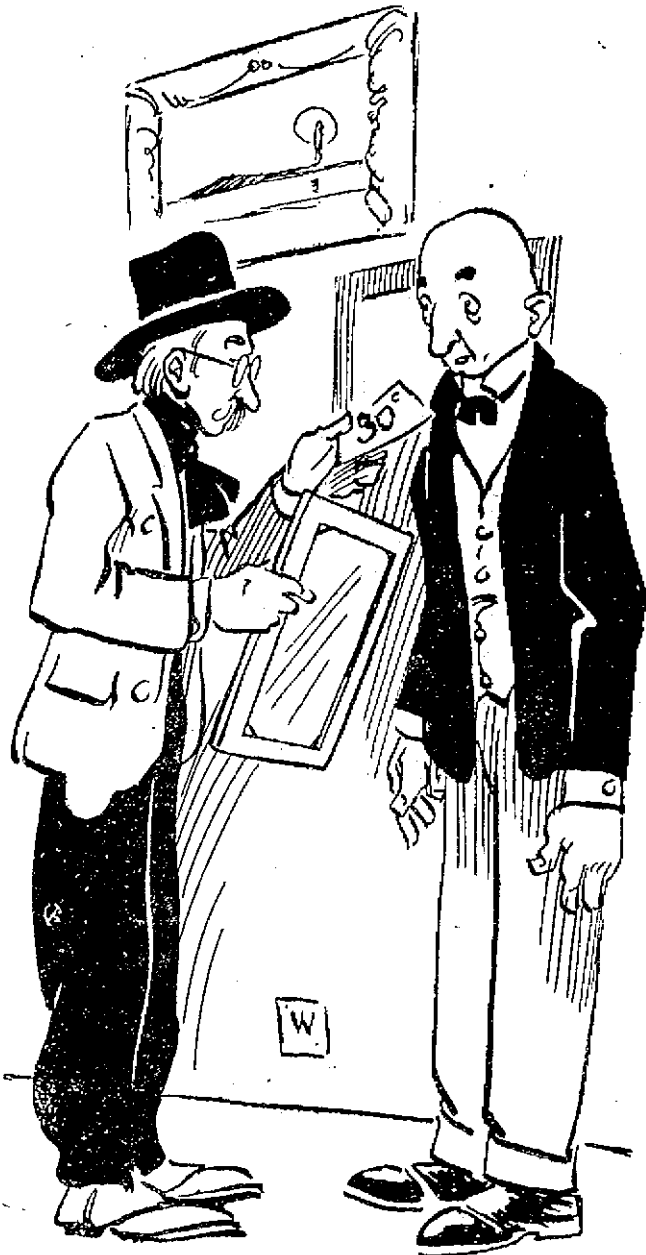

MET AND DISCUSSED CRICKET SCHEDULE

The regular meeting of the Mohair Cricket club was held Tuesday night with President James Halthwaite in the chair. Postponement of the league game with Everett on Saturday was discussed but it was found that the arrangements could not be made owing to suitable dates not being available between the two clubs. Regret was expressed as the captain of the club was scheduled to captain the Sons of St. George at the postponed game with the Old Fellows on Saturday at Huntington park. The team will therefore keep its date with Everett on Saturday, leaving Lowell by electric on the day that leaves the square at 12:15, by way of Menden.

The team: Captain D. Hird, White, Priestly, Barrett, Shaw, J. Barber, Hindle, Walmsley, Needham, Harrison, C. White, Reserve, B. Ingham, senior, Hindle, junior, Williams.

Arrangements are under way for the annual lawn party of June 26th. It has been decided to have sports in the afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30; children's entertainment at 6 o'clock, and concert at 8. SOME FUN FOR IDLE MOMENTS

SURER WAY.

"He is a fine judge of art."
"How did he become so proficient—by studying in Paris?"
"No, by examining the cost marks."

HERR PUMPERNICKEL'S DACHSHUNDS.

AT HIS EXPENSE.
CUTMAN—I don't suppose you keep chickens out at your place.
Subbubs—That's just what I do.
Cutman—Ah! Plymouth Rocks?
Subbubs—No, Naybors. They're his. see, I couldn't always be sure of tak-but I practically keep them, because they take their meals in my truck patch.

ANOTHER MAN WITH A SYSTEM.
"YOU never follow my advice," his wife complained. "I don't see why you keep on asking for it."
"Well," this mean man replied, "you see, I couldn't always be sure of tak-ing the right course if I didn't know which way you would rather not have me go."

MAKING HIS SODA GO A LONG WAY.

AN EARLY STORM.
"HAVE they returned from their honeymoon yet?"
"She has."

A CORNER CASUIST.

"You are no more blind than I am."
"Well, what's it to you?"
"What business have you wearing that card?"
"Just as much right as anybody. I don't say I am blind. This here is just a abstract proposition. See?"

A FLIRTATION

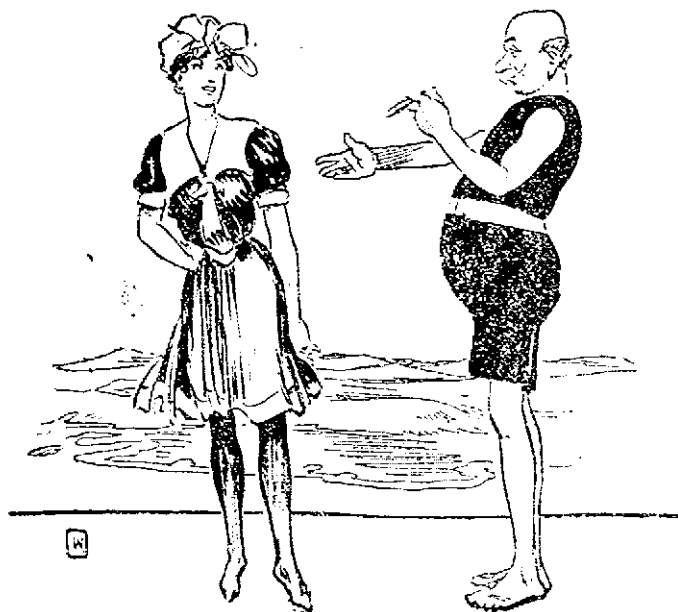

ENCOURAGING HIM.

GERALD—I wonder what you would do if I were to try to kiss you.
Geraldine—I'm glad that you have a thirst for knowledge at last.

OLD AND WISE.

HE—They say, you know, that two can live as cheap as one.
SHE—Yes, but I'm too old to try experiments.

NEEDED TEACHING.

"Can you swim, Mr. Brown?"
"Like a duck. Can you, Miss Jones?"
"Like a chicken."
"Come in, the water's deep."

DID HE SEE THE POINT?

He (frightful bore)—Now, can I fetch you anything nice?
She (sweetly)—Oh, thank you so much. I wish you would fetch me that tall, dark man I danced with before you and I had the last.

AN IMPRESSION.

"It is very difficult for a writer to make his words really felt," said the young man with the pensive manner.

"Yes," answered Miss Sweet, "but you have succeeded in doing so with me."

"Indeed?"
"A friend dropped one of your latest volumes the other day, and I was much obliged."

NOT NECESSARY.

"No excuse will serve in this matter, sir."
"How fortunate!"
"Why fortunate?"
"Because I have none to offer. Thanks for not requiring any."

EASILY TRACED.

MOTHER—I wonder from whom you inherit your talent as a sculptor, dear.
Her Son—Must be from you, mother. I've often heard you say father was just putty in your hands!

VISIBLE AGITATION.

"SPEAKING of a labor agitation," began the lazy reporter, "the worst in my experience."
"Was when some one asked you to do some actual work, I suppose," broke in the city editor, who knew his man.

NOTHING NEW.

Charley Footlights: "Why, Wing! What are you doing away out here? What's afoot now?"
Wright Wing (between his teeth): "Our entire company."

WOULD SEEM SO.

"NO matter what you go to see a doctor about, he is bound to end on your lungs."
"How is that?"
"Well, he always makes you cough up."

EVIDENTLY NOT.

"NO," said the leading man, "I never pay any attention to what the critics say."
"AP," replied the dramatic editor, "then they have not been giving you favorable notices."

WHEN A GIRL.

Miss Sweet: "College graduates do not always marry."
Mr. Swift: "Well, when a girl has had a lot of money spent on her education it makes her awfully particular."

VERY POOR TASTE.

Lions: "This business makes me most awful sick lately."
Lioness: "What's the matter?"
Lions: "Oh, the man who puts his head in my mouth has struck a new patch."

PARIS, June 10.—Not for several years has Paris witnessed such a spectacle of magnificence as was seen today at the funeral of the merchant, Chauchard, from the church of the Madeleine. M. Chauchard was the proprietor of the Magasin du Louvre, the well known department store and died June 4, leaving a vast fortune. The church was besieged and more than a half million people crowded the streets along which the funeral procession was to take its way.

While the good taste of M. Chauchard's friends brought about the suppression of the gorgeous Louis XIV. conclave that was planned by the deceased, the obsequies were carried out on a royal scale. Starting from his late residence in the Rue Velasquez the imposing procession literally forced its way through the streets to the Madeleine. The hearse which was drawn by six black horses was preceded by three funeral cars banked high with the richest flowers from three thousand employees of the Louvre store. The group of mourners behind the hearse consisted entirely of beneficiaries under the will of M. Chauchard and his servants. A single carriage with closed drawn blinds was occupied by Madame Boursin, who had been a close friend of M. Chauchard for something like thirty years.

THE "PROGRESSISTS"

Determined to Continue Their Fight in the Senate

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The "progressists" came into the senate today determined to continue their fight although the vote taken indicates that the committee on finance will be able to maintain a majority of 10 or 12 on all the provisions it had recommended. Shortly after the senate met a vote of 31 to 41 was cast against the contention of Mr. Dilliver that only the wool in yarn should be taxed thus upholding the finance committee.

Nine republicans, Cleveland, Brewster, Brown, Burdett, Clapp, Cummins, Dilliver, La Follette and Nelson voted against the committee as did Foster, I. A., although his colleague, Mr. McEnery, cast his vote with the republicans in support of the committee.

Continuing his effort to tax only the wool in fabrics made partly of cotton, Mr. Dilliver offered a substitute for that purpose for the paragraph relating to cloths, knit and other fabrics and manufactures made in whole or in part of wool. He insisted that it was practicable to assess the wool in the fabric and commenting on his proposed substitute convinced the senate with his humorous allusion to peculiarities in the Dingley law. Even cotton cloth with polka dots of wool glued on them were under the law, he said, obliged to pay the full duty that would be levied on them if wholly of wool. "The senator wants to lower the limit on that polka dot game," interposed Senator Warren.

"I hope that the senator will not introduce any mysterious figures of speech with which I am not at all familiar," responded the Iowa.

"On 'Home Sweet Home' and 'Welcome' mottoes, he said, were subject to pay duty under the wool schedule. Corn plasters when made of wool were obliged to pay tribute to the wool schedule under a decision that had declared them to be wearing apparel.

Mr. Dilliver said that when the bill is finally enacted it might be quite different from its appearance at present. The substitute was defeated by the same division that had been shown in the previous vote.

Offering another amendment requiring duties on woolen or worsted cloths, wool or worsted shawls, etc., Mr. Dilliver said it was an exact copy of a paragraph proposed by the committee on finance in 1888, a few months prior to the enactment of the McKinley law and then approved by both Senator Aldrich and the late Senator Allison. He announced that he proposed to offer a series of amendments obtained from the same source in the hope that their antiquity and the authority that had been behind them would recommend them to the senators.

Mr. Aldrich replied that this provision had not been incorporated in the McKinley act and that it related to an entirely different scheme from that in the pending bill and had no place in it. The substitute was promptly voted down 36 to 42.

Still another amendment applying to the blankets and flannels the principle of taxing the wool in the fabric instead of its entire weight as rule was rejected by a vote of 31 to 43.

Referring a suggestion by Mr. Clapp that all of his amendments bearing upon the wool schedule and for the same general purpose of those previously offered be presented and voted on by one roll call, Mr. Dilliver proceeded to offer them one by one, demanding a roll call on each. The votes developed no change of party

Decides Spalding House is Exempt From Taxes

Judge Bell this morning handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Molly Varnum chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution against the city of Lowell for exemption of taxes paid under protest on the Spalding house in Pawtucket street.

This was a test case heard before Judge Bell in the jury waived session of the superior court wherein the plaintiff corporation claimed that it should be exempt from taxation on the ground that it is a literary and benevolent corporation. It was agreed that the organization was one which educated people to be patriotic and the question arose whether this was a question of benevolence. It was also brought out that the plaintiffs did a certain amount of literary work including the preservation of historical sites, the Albert S. Howard appeared for the plaintiffs while the city was represented by William W. Duncan.

WEAVERS QUIT

THEY WANT AN INCREASE IN PAY

FALL RIVER, June 10.—A shop meeting of weavers of the Seacoast mill was held this morning in Weavers' hall at which it was stated that 125 weavers were present. They had left their work because of a disagreement on the price to be paid for weaving a certain class of goods. A fraction over two cents a cut was demanded and the mill offered two cents advance. The weavers also wanted a spare hand known as a smash-plecer hired. After discussion it was voted to meet again on Saturday. At the mill it was reported this afternoon that all but two or three had returned and the mill was in full operation.

negroes of the south to a higher level of civilization than more work of the kind that is being done of the Tuskegee Institute. Dr. Washington pointed out that the cost per capita of education in the south is not more than that in the north. In the south, 55 per centage of illiteracy in the south, 55 while in Portugal, he said, it is 95, and in Russia 76. His address was listened to with close attention by the large audience and was liberally applauded at the close.

While not an orator, Dr. Washington is a polished speaker and is so full of his subject that occasionally he rises to the heights of oratory and produces the effects of oratory with his audiences.

After having expressed his appreciation of the privilege and responsibility conferred upon him, Dr. Washington proceeded to the subject of Negro Education. He said it was hard to convince the American people that the negro can get on and use effectively and practically education. He allowed it was very much with a race as with an individual that the nation like the individual has to pass through its youthful period, or, as he said, "what we sometimes term the silly period of life." He said that the black race like the individual has learned to get down to business and that throughout the country the negro is exhibiting a common sense in relation to education that he has never before exhibited in so large a degree. Adding to this he said: "I think you will find that in spite of all of his vices, in the more fundamental things of life the negro in this country is more like the native white American than almost any other race that comes into America from foreign countries. He more readily assimilates civilization than any other race more readily adapts himself to the conditions that exist in the community. He more nearly digests ideas of American civilization. So aside from the matter of history and the color of his skin, he more quickly makes himself a part of the American than any other race does not cling to his blanket and the American Indian, he does not need his hair in a braid, as the Chinaman does. He throws aside his old habits and dresses as the people do in the community in which he lives.

The speaker wanted to understand that the American institutions and laws are ready at any time, if need be, to take down his life in defence of the stars and stripes. He said that he appreciated fully the strong points and weaknesses of his race but after considering the conditions and the prospects from every point of view, he felt that was great hope for the future of the people in this country, and it was to the people of this country to realize that they have, in connection with the uplifting of the negro, a privileged duty and responsibility.

South for the negro people in Alabama for the most part, work, but the trouble is they are so ignorant and inexperienced that they do not know how to utilize the products of their labor. He said they are down in the darkness but they realize it and want to get up.

The saloon, he said, was a great danger to the negro people. It was responsible for many of the vices and the crimes that led to the lynchings. But the southern states are banishing the saloons and sending them up north.

The speaker called attention to the fact that since the negro has been free he has not called upon the nation for a single dollar with which to feed, clothe or house himself. He referred to the number of institutions for the unfortunate in our cities and said that in Alabama, with a population of 23,000 black people, he did not think that a single dollar is helped by the public for the care of these people.

FOREST FIRES

HOULTON, Me., June 10.—Nearly a dozen villages and hamlets in the boundary counties of Aroostook and Washington in Maine, and York and Carleton in New Brunswick, were illuminated last night with the blaze of threatening forest fires. The situation, however, was generally more favorable last night than during the day. The combat with the dread element claimed one human victim a boy 15 years old, who was burned to death while trying to save his father's cattle at Edmunston. A general estimate of the territory devastated up to midnight, places the figures at 20,000 acres, nearly 50 square miles.

With Calais as its centre a territory comprising nearly 15,000 acres of valuable timber land succumbed to the ravages of four distinct fires, now in their second or third day of burning. The village of Bath, in Carleton county, N. B., was threatened with destruction by a fire which destroyed several buildings, together with some live stock. A general store and Gilbertson's hotel went the way of the timberland, and last night nothing was left but ashes. The fire was controlled at midnight.

A long, copious rain is believed to be the only adequate means for subduing the fires, and this has now been lacking for several weeks.

NIGHT EDITION

STABLE ENTERED

Team Stolen--Parties Arrested in Lawrence

The stable of the United States Bobbin & Shurtle company at the corner of Rogers and Perry streets was broken into late last night or early this morning and a valuable dark bay horse, weighing about 1100 pounds, brass plate harness with brass trimmings and Concord top buggy were stolen. The break was discovered about 2:30 o'clock this morning by a watchman who immediately notified the local police.

The thieves pried open the lock on a large gate leading to the stable and then gained an entrance to the stable by forcing a lock on one of the doors.

When Lieut. Martin Connors was notified of the robbery he immediately telephoned the local police and telephoned Lawrence, Nashua and towns surrounding Lowell to be on the lookout for the horse.

This morning the local police received a telephone message from Lawrence stating that the horse and wagon had been recovered and two men and a woman who were in the carriage at the time were placed under arrest and would be held until the Lowell police sent for them.

Inspectors Martin Maher and Charles L. Lawrence went to the down-river city and returned with the trio about noon.

When the trio was brought to the police station they gave their names as Leon M. Smith, aged 19 years, Lucy E. Smith, aged 16 years, wife of the former, and Joseph Smith, aged 19 years, Mr. and Mrs. Smith reside at 2 rear of 16 Agawam street while Bourke lives at 675 Dutton street.

Bourke is well known to the police having been released from the Concord Reformatory last March after having served two years at that institution. Neither Smith nor his wife ever has been brought before the attention of the police until today.

According to the story told by the police the two men and the woman went to the stable about 10:30 o'clock last night and with the assistance of a pinch bar succeeded in forcing the lock on the big gate and later the lock on the stable door.

They drove over the road to Lawrence, but fearful that they might attract attention by entering the city during the small hours of the morning stopped about a mile outside of the city and about 7 o'clock made their way to the stable of L. Theroux at 167 North Broadway where they succeeded in selling the outfit for $300. The ridiculously low figure set by the people caused the stableman to become suspicious and he immediately telephoned the police, but succeeded in keeping the trio in conversation until the police arrived. Patrolman Hart was sent from the station and took the three to the station and held them until Inspectors Maher and Lawrence arrived.

When searched at the police station it was found that one of the men had a revolver while the other had a pinch bar.

They will be arraigned in police court tomorrow morning on charges of breaking and entering and larceny.

THE GOULD CASE RANGE EXPLODED

Trial Begun in New York Today

NEW YORK, June 10.—The suit of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, on the ground of abandonment was begun today. Mr. and Mrs. Gould were both in court and although they sat only a few seats apart no sign of recognition passed between them.

Counsel for Mr. Gould filed a motion to dismiss Mrs. Gould's complaint contending that no adequate cause of action was stated, the misconduct fulfilling the legal requirement for separation.

PRES. GOMEZ SAYS THAT CELESTINE CASTRO CAN LAND

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, June 10.—President Gomez of Venezuela has said he would allow Celestine Castro brother of the deposed president of the republic to return to Venezuela provided that he will turn over to the government the 600 rifles he has gathered together on Colombian territory.

Celestine Castro came to Willemstad about three weeks ago and requested the Venezuelan government to permit him to return to Caracas. In the meantime he was served with a notice of expulsion from Willemstad, but managed to secure an extension of this order.

CREDIT EXCHANGE

Established by Local Merchants Today

At a joint meeting of the board of trade and merchants' association held today, Jean A. McElreath presiding, a credit exchange was established for the protection of local professional business men from persons known in the vernacular as "dead beats" that is, persons who make a practice of getting credit at the different establishments and seldom if ever paying. It was voted to send a circular letter to all the business and professional interests of Lowell inviting them to join the exchange and as soon as 100 names have been secured a plan will be put into operation.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 10.—Although an assignment regarding the financial condition of Lewis Tappan & Co. bankers and brokers who have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors was forthcoming today, John A. Tillingshast, the assignee announced that he had been bonded for $50,000 which indicates the extent of the failure.

Mr. Tillingshast said today that a statement of the assets and liabilities was being prepared but would probably not be completed until the first of next week when a meeting of the creditors would be called.

THE MAINE FIRES

CALAIS, Me., June 10.—There was little change today in the fire situation around this city. Men were fighting the flames which were being driven toward Calais by westerly winds and considerable apprehension was felt by people of this city.

A big fire west of Machias said to have been started by a farmer named Stanley on his own land was destroying much valuable timber.

| DIAMOND NOTES | |
| It is understood that a special meeting of the N. E. League will be held today to take action on the affairs of the Lowell club. Those who profess to know state that a change will be made within a few days and the first man with the money will get the team. | |
| Barren generally manages to get a growl on with the umpire before the game starts at all. | |
| After the game last evening Umpire McLaughlin and Winn got real spunky in his remarks to the big Caucasian lad. It seems that toward the end of the game yesterday Winn took two good balls out of play and hid them under his seat in the grandstand where McLaughlin saw them. McLaughlin told Winn that today he would have to keep four balls in the box or forfeit the game. | |
| Pitcher Jim Warner, Tom Fleming and "Doc" Edwards are anxiously waiting to see what will become of the team. There are others, too, but these three are especially raw cases. | |
| Mickey Finn of New London, Conn., and one of the star outfielders of the Connecticut league, has been signed by Lowell and played right field today. He opened with a double in the first and got a two bagger and stole third at his first time at bat. Mickey will make good with Lowell at right field. Finn in right field hit a blazer on first base and Fred Keller on the Fly River bench. It looks as if the Conn. league stars are all coming north. | |
| Weaver, the Fall River short stop, had 13 chances without an error yesterday. He's a regular eight-year veteran that boy. | |
| Joe Boyle continues to pick them off the bases. | |

STAR PITCHER

Is Criss of St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—One of the big surprises of the season is the change that has come over Pitcher Dode Criss of the St. Louis American League team. Last year Criss twirled a poor article of ball but was kept on the payroll because of his great pinch hitting ability. He more than made good and wound up the season with a percentage of .341. This season his game is just the opposite. He has been woefully in his batting, but is pitching a grand article of ball. In a recent game against Boston Criss struck out 12 men. Manager McAlister says that Criss will come near leading the winning twirlers at the end of the season.

PITCHER RUCKER

Is Playing in Hard Luck

BROOKLYN, June 10.—Nan Rucker, the star left hand pitcher of the Brooklyn team, is the champion hard luck twirler of the National League. In nearly every game this and last season Rucker has pitched grand ball but for some reason he does not seem to be able to win a big majority of his games. Sometimes his teammates fail to give him good support in the field. If not that, the team takes a slump in batting. Last year Rucker lost more games by one run than any other pitcher in the national league. With good backing there is little doubt that Rucker would be well up among the winning twirlers at the end of the season.

JACK O'BRIEN

Knocked Out by Stanley Ketchel

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Stanley Ketchel, the middle-weight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien in the third round last night, thus accomplishing a feat that Jack Johnson, the heavy-weight champion, failed to achieve in six rounds some three weeks ago. The fight was stopped in the second minute of the third round, after O'Brien had been knocked down twice in the second round and once in the third, and was almost unable to raise his hands to defend himself.

The fight was a whitewash affair from start to finish. Ketchel went after O'Brien from the tap of the gong, and showed that he was determined to achieve a knockout. He devoted his attention to O'Brien's body until he had drawn the latter's guard down, and then he sent in a crashing right in the second round that scored the first knock down. O'Brien got up gamely, but went down flat on his back a few minutes later from a right and a left on the jaw. This time he struggled to his feet at the count of six and two seconds later the gong rang.

The third and last round was brief. Ketchel went in for a knockout. His anxiety to finish it quickly he was aided and abetted by his swings, went wide of the mark. Finally he cornered O'Brien and sent in a left shot arm blow on the jaw that about finished him. O'Brien could not get up because he was pinned up in a corner. He crumpled up on the ropes and, shaking his head, Ketchel sent in right and left again that made O'Brien grope. Referee McElreath, seeing O'Brien's condition and wishing to avert a possible serious injury, stopped the fight.

Ketchel was cheered wildly by the crowd, which was quick to comment on his showing as compared with Jack Johnson's against O'Brien to the disadvantage of the black champion.

Ketchel said after the fight, "I was confident that I could get O'Brien out in six rounds. I am satisfied with my showing tonight."

O'Brien felt his defeat sorely, but was quick to give Ketchel full credit for his quick victory.

GREAT CONSPIRACY

TO SNUGGLER CHINESE INTO THIS COUNTRY

CHICAGO, June 10.—Defendants in one of the greatest conspiracies to smuggle Chinese into this country with which the government has ever dealt were placed on trial yesterday before United States District Judge Landis. Eight men were indicted as the result of the activity of government agents. Three recently pleaded guilty, sentences being deferred; one is a fugitive, the bonds of another were declared forfeited yesterday, and the remaining three entered pleas of not guilty.

Robert W. Stephenson, said to be the son of a Cripple Creek, Colo., judge, W. H. Clark, and John Helstad, all brazenly admitted their part in the alleged conspiracy and agreed to give testimony for the government.

They assisted in bringing Chinese from El Paso to Chicago. Sam Wink, a wealthy Chicago Chinaman, agreed to have been one of the Chicago agents who cared for the consignments of inadmissible agents, disappeared some time ago and his bonds were declared forfeited to the government. Chin. Van, another Chicagoan, said to have been the chief conspirator, was to have been brought to trial yesterday, but could not be found, and his bonds were forfeited.

They actually brought before the court yesterday were Bob Loung, a wealthy Chinese merchant of El Paso and Jose Barra and Carlos Serrano, Mexicans.

BURNED TO CRISP

SIX MEN DEAD, FOUR OTHERS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

WHEELING, W. Va., June 10.—Six bodies were burned to a crisp today in a fire which broke out in a four-story tenement house. Thirty others had narrow escapes.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night a "short" occurred in the Martins Hotel, Ohio, between the Wheeling Steel & Iron Co. A force of workmen, numbering 30, were gathered about the furnace making ready to drill in for the 10th blast. Without a moment's warning there was a terrific roar and great masses of molten iron started from the furnace, sweeping down the workmen. Twenty or more were caught in the onrush. Six men are known to have been caught by the hot iron and incinerated. Fourteen others were badly mutilated. The cause of the accident is not known.

PROF. ERNEST FOX NICHOLS, PRESIDENT-ELECT OF DARTMOUTH

GREAT GROWTH

Shown Under Rule of Pres. Tucker

CONCORD, N. H., June 10.—A minute on the retirement of William Jewett Tucker, D.D., LL. D., from the presidency of Dartmouth college, his successor, Prof. Ernest Fox Nichols, of Columbia university, having been elected Tuesday night, was unanimously adopted by the trustees of the college yesterday.

"All the large concerns of the college have been managed with statesmanship, with a broad estimate of the desirable and a sound judgment of the possible. There has been also a steady growth in the power of the college upon the country at large. It is no accident that Massachusetts for example, sends 500 undergraduate students to Dartmouth; New York more than 100, and the middle and farther west, nearly 150. This is due to the impression made on the country by the college under Dr. Tucker's administration."

FISH MARKET

GREAT SUPPLY OF MACKEREL REACHED BOSTON

BOSTON, June 10.—Fresh cod and haddock are rather scarce and high in the local fish market, but there is a good supply of all other kinds of fresh fish, and halibut and hake are really abundant. The offerings of mackerel are larger than they have been at any other time this season. The receipts of these fish by rail are fairly large, and two vessels that have been operating near the Cape shore have come directly to T wharf with good-sized rigs; these boats, which arrived yesterday, are the first of the season to bring their catches to Boston. Mackerel are said to be abundant in the Cape shore region and the fishermen are having good luck; unless the weather is bad, therefore, the receipts will be large from now on. The fish are good, and the prices are the lowest of the season.

The arrivals of bluefish have been larger this week than they have been before in some time; they are lower than they have been, but are by no means cheap. Salmon are coming in freely, both from the west and from "down east" and prices have dropped again. The supply of shad is not very large, but so few are now wanted that dealers have to offer them at low prices in order to attract buyers. Several vessels have started out for swordfish and several more are getting ready to go. Catfish, flounders, weakfish, scup, butterfish and perch are plenty and easy; eels are rather scarce and high.

PIANO RECITAL

BY PUPILS OF MISS CALDERWOOD AT KITSON HALL

The piano recital of the pupils of Miss L. E. Calderwood, of High street, was held at Kitson hall, John street, last night and was attended by the friends of the pupils, the hall being well filled. The program was made up of selections by pupils of all grades, from the youngest to the oldest, and in each case the performance was quite creditable. Some of the selections by the older pupils were highly meritorious. The violin selections by Signor Antonio Androski, showed that young man to be a talented musician. Miss Calderwood was warmly congratulated upon the success of her first trial. The program was as follows:

EX-JUDGE DEWEY

Loses His Suit for

BOSTON, June 10.—The jury which has been hearing the evidence in the suit for libel brought by Ex-Judge Henry S. Dewey against Laurence M. not, Eliot N. Jones, Nathaniel N. Thayer, George R. Nutter and John Mason Little of the Good Government association, in the effort to recover $76,450,000 damages for alleged utterances by these men at the time that Dewey was a candidate for mayor, was yesterday afternoon ordered to return a verdict for the defendants.

Judge Sherman did not thus order the verdict until four fundamental questions, dealing with the important specific issues in the case had been propounded to and answered by the jury. These four questions all being answered, after one deliberation, in favor of the defendants, the verdict in their favor was ordered.

The questions asked of the jury by the court were, in substance, as follows:

1. Was the charge of fraud and trickery made by Judge Dewey against the defendants true? The answer to this by the jury was in the negative.

2. Were the publications made or authorized by defendants as proved a reasonable or justifiable answer to the statements of the plaintiff? The jury answered in the affirmative.

3. Were the defendants in making these statements acting in good faith and without malice? The jury answered "yes."

4. Has the plaintiff suffered any damage directly attributed to these alleged statements? To this the jury replied "no."

Judge Sherman's Statement

In his charge to the jury Judge Dewey said:

"Judge Dewey has a right to seek to be mayor, but when he seeks office by his own volition, the moment he becomes a candidate he opens his character to criticism and when he took the stump he invited all just and fair criticism. So far as the defendants discussed his fitness for office they were within their rights."

"There doesn't seem to be any question but what Judge Dewey threw the first stone. He got on the stump and made an attack on the Good Government association. He said their agents obtained signatures by use of trickery and deceit. So far as I know, that is the first utterance in the case. They denied it. He didn't see fit to take it back and goes on charging these gentlemen who claim to be honorable men."

GREAT EXCITEMENT

Yesterday the A. G. Pollard Dry Goods Co., advertised in The Sun that the annual silk sale would take place this morning, and that silks ordinarily marked at from $1.00 to $1.25 a yard, would be sold for 39 cents a yard. This simple announcement brought forth one of the largest crowds of women that ever assembled at a special sale in this city. The moment the store doors were opened thousands of women thronged the place and while there were dozens of clerks on the counters which were about 75 feet in length, it was almost impossible to wait on the crowds. The management was obliged to telephone to the police station for officers to try and keep back the crowd and maintain order. The women in their anxiety to get these bargains became weak and many fainted. We do not know how long the sale will continue, but already thousands of women have been able to secure these wonderful bargains, and it looks now as if every woman in the city would be wearing a silk dress this summer. The sale is simply phenomenal which goes to prove that the women read the advertisement and that advertising pays.

FISH MARKET

GREAT SUPPLY OF MACKEREL REACHED BOSTON

BOSTON, June 10.—Fresh cod and haddock are rather scarce and high in the local fish market, but there is a good supply of all other kinds of fresh fish, and halibut and hake are really abundant. The offerings of mackerel are larger than they have been at any other time this season. The receipts of these fish by rail are fairly large, and two vessels that have been operating near the Cape shore have come directly to T wharf with good-sized rigs; these boats, which arrived yesterday, are the first of the season to bring their catches to Boston. Mackerel are said to be abundant in the Cape shore region and the fishermen are having good luck; unless the weather is bad, therefore, the receipts will be large from now on. The fish are good, and the prices are the lowest of the season.

The arrivals of bluefish have been larger this week than they have been before in some time; they are lower than they have been, but are by no means cheap. Salmon are coming in freely, both from the west and from "down east" and prices have dropped again. The supply of shad is not very large, but so few are now wanted that dealers have to offer them at low prices in order to attract buyers. Several vessels have started out for swordfish and several more are getting ready to go. Catfish, flounders, weakfish, scup, butterfish and perch are plenty and easy; eels are rather scarce and high.

PIANO RECITAL

BY PUPILS OF MISS CALDERWOOD AT KITSON HALL

The piano recital of the pupils of Miss L. E. Calderwood, of High street, was held at Kitson hall, John street, last night and was attended by the friends of the pupils, the hall being well filled. The program was made up of selections by pupils of all grades, from the youngest to the oldest, and in each case the performance was quite creditable. Some of the selections by the older pupils were highly meritorious. The violin selections by Signor Antonio Androski, showed that young man to be a talented musician. Miss Calderwood was warmly congratulated upon the success of her first trial. The program was as follows:

SLAUGHTER HOUSE TRAGEDIES.

It is now believed that the insane outbreak by a butcher in the North slaughter house at Somerville last Saturday resulting in the death of five people and the serious injury of three others was brought on by the nagging by the mania's fellow workmen. The nature of his work was sufficient to affect a weak mind, for he had the unpleasant occupation of sticking hogs sent to him on an overhead pulley, at the rate of one every few seconds. When to the effect of this gruesome work on a sensitive mind were superadded the gibes of fellow workmen, some idea may be had as to the cause of the unfortunate man's outbreak. There can be no question as to his insanity, however, for he killed his best friends which is the usual aim of violent maniacs. He may have some hereditary tendency to insanity, and if so, of course nothing was needed but some exciting cause to overthrow his mind.

THE SUCCESS OF THE RINGLINGS.

The five Ringling brothers, whose circus appears here tomorrow have had remarkable success in the show business. Their career since boyhood has a valuable lesson for those who are looking for the mainsprings of success. One of the secrets of their success is, that they are men of brains. The next is that they have worked loyally together. Unfortunately it is far too seldom that five or six brothers cling together in one line of business as have the Ringlings. They got their first inspiration to enter the show business from seeing Obadiah Green's aggregation of "World Wonders" unloaded from a small show boat at the little town of McGregor, Ia., in 1874. In 1888 they started their first railroad show; in the nineties they began to excite the jealousy of the biggest shows on earth, and now they own those big shows, the Barnum circus and the Forepaugh and Sells, having secured what is undoubtedly the finest circus in the world.

It seems but a short time since the Ringlings were here with a one-ring circus, small to be sure but it had originality and organization that indicated the operation of superior management. Even that small show reflected the genius of the Ringlings.

Where there are five, six, seven or ten boys in one family it is a splendid idea for them all to embark in one business, not necessarily the circus business, for that field is well stocked at present, but manufacturing, or mercantile pursuits or even the business of publishing a newspaper. Too often it happens that large families of boys instead of uniting their efforts in one business, scatter in different directions, none of them accomplishing anything of importance. Had the Ringlings scattered thus their success would probably have been much less than it is today.

FOR THE PURIFICATION OF RIVERS.

All over this country there is a movement to prevent the further pollution of rivers and streams by making them the outlet for the sewage of cities and towns. This movement has been brought to the front by the state authorities in Ohio, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, Florida and other states for the purification of their principal rivers.

The state board of health of Massachusetts has been agitating the matter for some years with a view to stopping the pollution of the Merrimack and other rivers now used to carry the sewage of cities to the sea. Last year the question of purifying the Merrimack river came up in the legislature and was sidetracked through the influence of cities that would be put to a vast expense if prevented from emptying their sewers into the rivers. Report after report has shown the need of legislative action in order to bring about the purification of the Merrimack which in its course receives the sewage of Manchester, Nashua, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill together with that of a number of small towns scattered along the banks from Manchester to the sea.

Lowell is perhaps the one city most opposed to the legislation proposed for the purification of the river. Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport are in favor of the change in spite of the fact that it would entail considerable expense upon all of them. The expense they would have to incur, however, would not be nearly so great as that which would fall upon Lowell as a result of changing her system of sewerage.

Lowell seems to escape the bad results of the impurities of the river that are reported from other cities. We have no typhoid worthy of mention; while Lawrence has had several epidemics within the past decade. This, no doubt, is explained by the fact that Lowell has a water supply that is unexcelled for purity. It is drawn from driven wells, and there is no better water in the state. Lawrence on the contrary uses the river water after putting it through a process of filtration which, if we are to judge from the typhoid outbreaks, does not rid the water of its impurities.

The state board of health has been seeking the authority of the legislature to go ahead and adopt such measures as it may see fit for the purification of rivers, but thus far it has not been invested with that authority. It has made investigations that show very clearly and emphatically the necessity of some step to bring about the purification of the rivers in the interest of public health as well as for the pleasure and amusement of the people in the cities along the river banks.

Representative Conley of Lowell has introduced a bill in the legislature, the object of which is to make the state board of health merely an advisory body to the legislature in all matters appertaining to the purification of the rivers. Representative Conley's object, no doubt, is to prevent the adoption of any radical measure by which the city of Lowell might be called upon very suddenly to incur an expenditure of millions of dollars for the purpose of providing a means of disposing of the city sewage without emptying it into the river as at present.

It has been estimated by experts that it would cost two or three million dollars to establish a complete system of sewage reduction for this city. The matter of stopping the pollution of the Merrimack river is one that must be worked out gradually by the joint action of New Hampshire and this state inasmuch as both are equally interested in having the river water purified as they are equally responsible at the present time for its pollution.

The city of Lowell may as well get ready to meet this problem as best she can because it is certainly coming to the front and cannot be stayed off more than another year at most if the health authorities of this and other states continue to agitate the subject as they have been doing for two years past. Unless we lag behind in the march of progress in public sanitation, the river must be purified and no city, much less the state of Massachusetts, can afford to adopt any unprogressive course in a matter so vitally affecting the public welfare.

THE BIG CIRCUS

Will Show in This City Tomorrow

New York city was electrified when in March it had its first glimpse of Ringling Brothers' circus. Madison Square Garden was too small to hold the crowds that sought admission, and the newspapers said the performance was the best ever seen in Manhattan. Just as the show was presented there at the Garden it will be seen here tomorrow, not one detail being missing from the wonderful bill that charmed the public of the great metropolis of America.

The first of the five long trains bearing the circus is expected to arrive shortly after midnight. By seven to-morrow morning twelve acres of the city's real estate will be under canvas and the days of the greatest circus of all times will be tossing in the breeze. The down-town ticket office will be located in the Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and reserved seats and admissions can be bought there all day at the same price charged at the regular box office.

The new street parade is set for ten o'clock in the forenoon and it will pass over the usual route. It is the greatest street display ever made by the Ringling Brothers, the outfit having been made in the foreign workshops of the circus at Stoke-on-Trent, England. The entire world has contributed to the pageant and it is nearly three miles long.

There will be two performances here, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 o'clock at night, the night show being exactly the same as that of the afternoon. The program is the greatest of all times. Briefly stated, here is what will be seen: The Arthur Saxons, a trio of strong men, any one of whom is stronger than was Samson; the Schumann Performing Horses, that drink from glasses, skip the rope and push each other around in immense beer barrels; the Tinsler Performing Stations that harness and unharness themselves; Robidello, the wonderful Spanish wire dancer; the climax of all thrillers, the double somersaulting automobile act of Miss Roeder, the most interesting zoological garden in the world, a new opening spectacle and a performance of such striking proportions and such excellence as to surprise the warmest admirers of the circus.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH.

The Boys' Brigade of the First Trinitarian Congregational church will have an exhibition and prize drill on Wednesday evening. The brass band from the Middlesex county training school will furnish the music. Captain Walter H. Jones, captain of Company G, is the drill master, and the exhibition promises to be excellent.

Sunday, June 13th, will be observed as Children's Sunday by the First Trinitarian Congregational church with special services. At 10.30 a. m. there will be a special children's service with singing of beautiful music by a children's choir of 100 voices in the choir loft.

A large number of young people will be received into the membership of the church, and many little children will be presented by their parents for baptism. The sermon by the pastor on "Christian Nurture" will be appropriate to the occasion. At 12.00 m. there will be an episcopal service in the Sunday school, with all departments gathered in the auditorium.

There will be promotion from the Cradle roll to the kindergarten, kindergarten to primary, primary to intermediate, intermediate to senior. At five p. m. there will be a special celebration of the communion. At six p. m. a union meeting of all the departments of the church, and also the anniversary for those who have united with the church on flower Sunday in former years. At seven p. m. Mr. Kennigott will give the first in a series of brief Sunday evening lectures on "Religion and Medicine."

The lecture next Sunday evening will be on "Conventions." This lecture will be followed on successive Sunday evenings at seven o'clock with lectures on the following subjects: June 20th, "The Mind and Body;" June 27th, "Nervousness;" July 4th, "Fears and Worries;" July 11th, "Habit and the Will;" July 18th, "Faith and Prayer;" July 25th, "The Good Physician."

GREAT DAMAGE

Done to the Canadian Canal

SAULE STE MARIE, Mich., June 10.—With all the weight of Lake Superior behind it, an ungoverned torrent of water rushed last night through the $4,000,000 Canadian canal, built to carry vessels around the impassable rapids of the Saint Marys river. The entire fall of approximately 20 feet is concentrated in the lock which was wrecked yesterday when the steamer Perry G. Walker of Gilchrist fleet, rammed her bow through the lower gate. The canal encased within its walls this evening a tremendous spectacle, including two water falls and a big whirl pool.

The upper gates were open when the Walker crushed open the lower gates and the tremendous power of the rapids was given instant play. The steamer Assiniboia, a Canadian Pacific passenger liner, moored within the lock chamber, was torn away from her moorings. Hiding on the crest of the flood, she jammed the Walker from her path and her port anchor ripped a hole in the Walker's side. The liner's engine crew put on full steam ahead in a desperate endeavor to give the big vessel steering way and with her wheelsmen battling to overcome the swirling currents the Assiniboia swept into the open reaches of the River below. The Assiniboia's cargo shifted and this gave her a considerable list and several plates on her port side forward of amidships were loosened.

The Walker was whirled around several times and finally landed on a shoal out of the channel. It is said she is undamaged below the waterline.

The ore-laden steamer Crescent City of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, which was just entering the locks from Lake Superior, when the accident occurred, was swept down stream like a feather. She overtook the Assiniboia and struck the latter two glancing blows and after having a great hole torn in her side she swept past the broken lower gate. Tugs caught her and towed her to the American side, where she settled to the bottom.

Both the upper gates of the lock and one lower gate were wrenched from their moorings. The other gate still hangs to its fastenings, twisted and broken.

The loss to the Canadian government will probably reach $250,000, and the damage to the Crescent City is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the steamer Walker and Assiniboia was comparatively light.

Captain Mosher of the steamer Walker declared that the accident was caused by his engineer making a mistake and throwing his lever to "full speed ahead" on the captain's signal to "back up."

It is believed that the American locks here are capable of carrying all the traffic under the present conditions of the shipping business.

WILLIAM GRAFF

Optimistic Cripple Making Tour of World

William Graff, a cripple, is in Lowell and he wants you to assist him to go a place where he can find a cure for paralytic rheumatism. Of all the optimistic cripples that ever lived, William Graff, is probably the most optimistic of them all. He is now bound on a trip around the world in a wheel chair of his own invention and one that he made with his left hand. His right arm is useless as are his lower limbs, yet this man is as full of hope as though his health was the best.

William Graff was in this city about two years ago and we mentioned the fact in these columns with the result that he received generous assistance here. He has been a great sufferer from paralytic rheumatism and although he has had relief six different times, it has always come back again. He is ailing useful, articles of his own manufacture. He is of a cheerful disposition and has a smile for everyone. If you think he isn't enthusiastic about his trip round the world just ask him about it.

When he arrives in Germany he intends to take the treatment there but at any rate he will make the trip around the world. He expects to make the trip in seven years. He belongs in Chambersburg, Pa.

BITTER DEFEAT

SUFFERED BY THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—Anti-saloon forces in Ohio suffered a bitter defeat yesterday when Youngstown, with 59,000 inhabitants and the remainder of Mahoning county, voted in special election to retain the saloon. The vote in the city and county precincts was: "Wet" 11,922; "Dry" 9,561. In the county where much was expected by the anti-saloon forces, only 153 majority was obtained.

Ten thousand persons packed the public square last night and cheered the bolshies showing the partial election returns. The principal streets were made safe by processions of automobiles, driving at high speed and led with yellow flags. Chief of Police McCall issued orders that all saloons be kept closed until this morning, and is keeping his entire force of 80 men on duty to prevent disorder.

The last meeting of the season of the Grocers and Butchers association was held last night in Builders' Exchange. President Fitzpatrick in the chair. A letter was received from Congress and Butler Ames relative to the Interurban Street Railway plans, and favorable action was taken. A committee of three was appointed to attend a hearing to be held at the state house. The committee consists of Pres. Fitzpatrick, John McCauley and David Gerow.

A communication was also received from the board of trade and acted favorably upon, and a committee appointed to attend its meetings.

It was voted to take no action on the annual plans.

GAS BLOWN OUT

DR. PEARSON WAS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian for Pennsylvania, and head of the department of veterinary medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, was found overcome by illuminating gas yesterday at his home.

Physicians at the University hospital say that Dr. Pearson has a chance to recover, but are not so confident about his mother.

Dr. Pearson arose in the night to assist his mother, who was ill. While waiting for some water to heat on a gas burner he sat in an arm chair holding her hand. Overcome by fumes he fell into a doze and the wind blew out the gas.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE SEATTLE EXPOSITION, WHERE WEST'S WONDERS ARE ON VIEW

SEATTLE, June 10.—The success of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition from the first has far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the people of the Pacific coast, and the big fair promises to eclipse anything ever held west of the Mississippi except the St. Louis fair. Indeed, the promoters of the Seattle fair are not sure that their show will not draw more people than did the Louisiana Purchase exposition. On the opening day of the

Seattle exposition there were $3,500 persons on the grounds, and the attendance has steadily kept up. Excursion trains are daily pouring vast multitudes into Seattle, and the summer advances, and the farming contingent sees its way clear to take a holiday there is little doubt that the crowds will increase. As the prosperity of the west is on the up grade and the prospect for crops is excellent, there is no reason why the Seattle show should not reap a harvest of dollars to the very day of its close. Those who have visited every big fair since the Philadelphia Centennial have nothing but praise for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The mining exhibits far surpass anything of the kind ever assembled at a similar event. One of the accompanying photographs shows the Cascades, one of the chief wonders of the fair.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Chicago experienced a shock when former Mayor Dunne went into Judge Honore's court there recently and demanded that a divorce granted in 1901 to Grace B. Guggenheim from William Guggenheim, one of the family of "Smelter

WM. GUGGENHEIM

"Jane Eyre." Your mother is absolutely right. Notwithstanding the fact that you have reached the advanced age of 20 years, your mother still is competent to advise you. It is downright folly for any girl to use rouge and make-up.

Mrs. L. C. B. First of all, stop worrying. Worry only increases your thinness and sallowness. Be cheerful, eat an abundance of eggs and drink plenty of milk. To purify your blood and rid yourself of pimples and blotches take a system tonic made as follows: Dissolve 1 ounce of kaffirine and 12 teaspoonfuls of sugar in 12 pint of alcohol and 12 pints of boiling water. Take 1 tablespoonful 3 times, before each meal and before retiring. This recipe makes a full quart of tonic that not only cleanses the blood, but makes the liver more active, which will tend to clear your sallow complexion.

Ethel J. (1) It made me happy to read your letter. I am glad you think to wait of my recipes that you can then out and pass them along to your friends. None should have difficulty in getting from her druggist any ingredient I name, for I never advise the use of anything that is not sold in first-class drug stores everywhere. (2) The only objection I know to the use of liquid complexion beautifiers is their high cost when purchased in a ready-made, manufactured state. You can make at home a fine "liquid powder" that softens and whitens the skin by putting 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine and 4 ounces of spumex in 12 pint of boiling water. Let stand until cold. Apply with the palm of the hand and rub until dry. I prefer this spumex wash to any face powder I can buy.

Pearl M.: You can make a strengthening tonic for your tired and inflamed eyes by dissolving 1 ounce of crystals in a pint of water. Drop 1 or 2 drops in each eye when you are tired. This tonic is used by many of the ladies to give life and lustre to the eyes when they are dull and listless. Those who wear glasses will find it helpful.

Fern D.: Do not drink cold water at meals. The sudden change on the food in the stomach chills it and prevents the digestive juices from acting freely, thus letting the food be passive and causing indigestion.

Mac McC.: Blackheads are sometimes slow to yield to treatment, but I feel sure that if you use carefully a cream jelly made as follows you will find relief. Get from your druggist 1 ounce of almond and put it in a half pint of cold water to which you have added 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine, then stir briskly for a few minutes and let stand until it becomes thick. Massage your face with it and it will thoroughly cleanse the pores and the dust and grime will roll out and off the skin. This tends to make large pores small and prevents the return of blackheads. It also cleans the skin of freckles and tan and keeps it smooth, moist and pliable. It is worth noting that this almond cream jelly contains no oils or animal fat that is likely to cause the growth of superfluous hair.

"Three Jolly Girls." A shampoo should be a delight, not a torment. If the cleansing is done thoroughly a shampoo every two or three weeks is all that is required, no matter how heavy the hair or how dirty the occupation. I know nothing better than plain castile soap for shampooing purposes. Any beauty specialist will give you a can-throx shampoo, but if you prefer to have it at home just get a package of canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a teaspoonful in a teaspoonful of hot water. Then take your shampoo by pouring the mixture on the hair and rubbing in well. It will cleanse the scalp thoroughly and leave the hair soft and fluffy. I asked one of my girl friends to whom I recommended canthrox how she found it. Her answer was, "Oh, my, I never saw anything like it. It made a whole rural of father."

Herbert C. L.: A remedy that has stood the test of years in a family noted for their hair is made by dissolving 1 ounce of quinine in 12 pint of alcohol and adding 12 pint of cold water. Once or twice a week wet the hair with this quinine hair tonic and massage well into the roots. It is said to remove dandruff, stop falling hair, relieve itching, keep the scalp in healthy condition and promote the growth of hair.

Mrs. J. R.: If you are troubled with eczema, or bad itching skin 4 ounces of lye with 4 tablespoonfuls of alcohol and 12 pint of water. Boil a small quantity of this lotion on the affected surface and watch it heat. This is an excellent remedy for any rash or skin disease.

Viola, W.: Rub vasoline into your finger-nails and they will soon lose their brittleness.

"Miss Chiswick." Really, I cannot sympathize with you because you are becoming too busy. Most of the fat people I know seem to enjoy life, are so jolly and well-natured, that they require no special diet. However, if you want to get rid of superfluous weight dissolve 1 ounce of purgals in a pint of hot water and take 1 teaspoonful 2 times a day. Before meals. This is a flesh reducer that is almost certain to bring about the results you desire and should reduce your weight 10 pounds in a few weeks.

MOHAIR CLUB

MET AND DISCUSSED CRICKET SCHEDULE

The regular meeting of the Mohair Cricket club was held Tuesday night with President James Halthwaite in the chair. Postponement of the league game with Everett on Saturday was discussed, but it was found that the arrangements could not be made owing to suitable dates not being available between the two clubs. Regret was expressed as the captain of the club was scheduled to captain the Sons of St. George at the postponed game with the Old Fellows on Saturday at Bunting park. The team will therefore keep its date with Everett on Saturday, leaving Lowell by electric, on the car that leaves the square at 12.15, by way of Malden.

The team: Captain D. Hird, Whitaker, Priestly, Barrett, Shaw, J. Barber, Hindie, Walmsley, Needham, Harrison, C. Walte. Reserve, B. Ingham, scorer, Rhodes; umpire, Williams. Arrangements are under way for the annual lawn party of June 26th. It has been decided to have sports in the afternoon from 2.30 to 4.30; children's entertainment at 6 o'clock, and concert at 8. The club will hire a brass band for dancing, and the regular illuminations will be in vogue. The usual midway will be a feature. The game which was to be played at Mohair park, between the reserve team and North Billerica, has been cancelled to allow those who wish to visit the fete at the Bunting grounds.

lows will be held Saturday at the Bunting Cricket grounds weather permitting.

The cricket game between the two organizations will commence promptly at 1.30 p. m., to enable the sports committee to run the other events before dark.

As most every player on the Bunting team is chosen to play on one side or the other the Bunting management has decided that it cannot get a fair representative to meet Moore Spinning and for that reason there will be no game at North Chelmsford that day. This will allow North Chelmsford players the opportunity to play with the "Sons" or "Old Fellows."

The prizes for the cricket game, bowling tournament, five mile race, 100 yards dash, and high jump are on exhibition.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Oberlin lodge of Odd Fellows met as usual on Tuesday evening and Vernon Simonson was duly installed as vice-grand of the lodge for the balance of the term. Next week is the first nomination of new officers and a large attendance is expected to "make things lively" on that occasion. Several matters of economical management will come up for discussion, and plans laid for an early fall campaign.

Mt. Zion lodge, I. O. O. F., held its regular meeting last night at Good Templar hall, Gorham street. The following members were elected to attend the district lodge session: John Bowker, Mrs. Bessie Santesson, Charles Philbrick, Mrs. Charles Philbrick, Elmer Stark, Mrs. Morris, and Carl J. Santesson. The alternates are: Mrs. Kate Higginbotham, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Maude M. Mountford, Mrs. Francis Buchanan, Walter Mathews and Joseph Higginbotham. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for entertaining lodges from Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover on June 23.

Ladies' Day, Thursdays, Turkish Baths, Middle St. Experienced attendants in charge. Everything renovated.

Explains To The Public

Why most cathartics and laxatives do harm. New treatment advocated.

Nearly all cathartics or laxative medicines ultimately do harm to the human system because they act in such a drastic manner as to drain the natural fluids from either the liver, intestines or colon (large bowel). Calomel drains the liver and exhausts it, causing weakness and future trouble. Candy laxatives, syrups, salts and mineral waters drain the small intestines causing abnormal secretions and inflammation while aloes drains and irritates the large bowel causing griping and pain.

Remedies of this kind must be taken in ever-increasing doses which soon causes the membrane or mucus surfaces of the liver and bowels to harden and close the pores from which the natural moistening fluids come. The wonderful new drug compound known as cascaraol pills (Blackburn's) is scientifically compounded so that the entire system is acted upon in a mild tonic manner and then no simple organ is depended on to relieve constipation. A mild, balmy, pleasurable physic is the result, as cascaraol pills are made of such well known drugs as castor oil, cascara, wild lemon, black cherry, sulphur, ginger and the like. This cascaraol pill purifies the blood and acts as a mild tonic. The Blackburn Products Co., of Dayton, Ohio, will gladly send a free package to any one who suffers from the baneful effects of constipation and the reader is advised to write for it. Ten and twenty-five cent packages of this new treatment can be obtained of most any druggist.

SOME FUN FOR IDLE MOMENTS

SURER WAY.

"He is a fine judge of art."
"How did he become so proficient—by studying in Paris?"
"No; by examining the cost marks."

HERR PUMPERNICKEL'S DACHSHUNDS.

AT HIS EXPENSE.
CUTIMAN—I don't suppose you keep chickens out at your place.
Subbubs—That's just what I do.
Cutiman—Ah, Plymouth Rocks?
Subbubs—No, Navors. They're his, see, I couldn't always be sure of tak-but I practically keep them, because they take their meals in my truck patch.

ANOTHER MAN WITH A SYSTEM.
"YOU never follow my advice," his wife complained. "I don't see why you keep on asking for it."
Cutiman—Ah, Plymouth Rocks?
Subbubs—No, Navors. They're his, see, I couldn't always be sure of tak-
but I practically keep them, because they take their meals in my truck patch.

MAKING HIS SODA GO A LONG WAY.

AN EARLY STORM.
"HAVE they returned from their honeymoon yet?"
"She has."

A CORNER CASUIST.

"You are no more blind than I am."
"Well, what's it to you?"
"What business have you wearing that card?"
"Just as much right as anybody. I don't say I am blind. This here is just a abstract proposition. See?"

A FLIRTATION

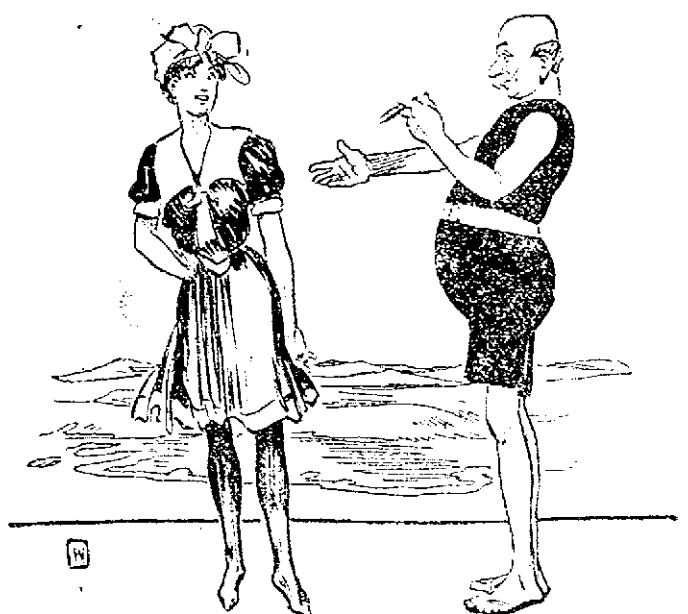

ENCOURAGING HIM.

GERALD—I wonder what you would do if I were to try to kiss you.
Geraldine—I'm glad that you have a thirst for knowledge at last.

OLD AND WISE.

HE—They say, you know, that two can live as cheap as one.
She—Yes, but I'm too old to try experiments.

NEEDED TEACHING.

"Can you swim, Mr. Brown?"
"Like a duck. Can you, Miss Jones?"
"Like a chicken."

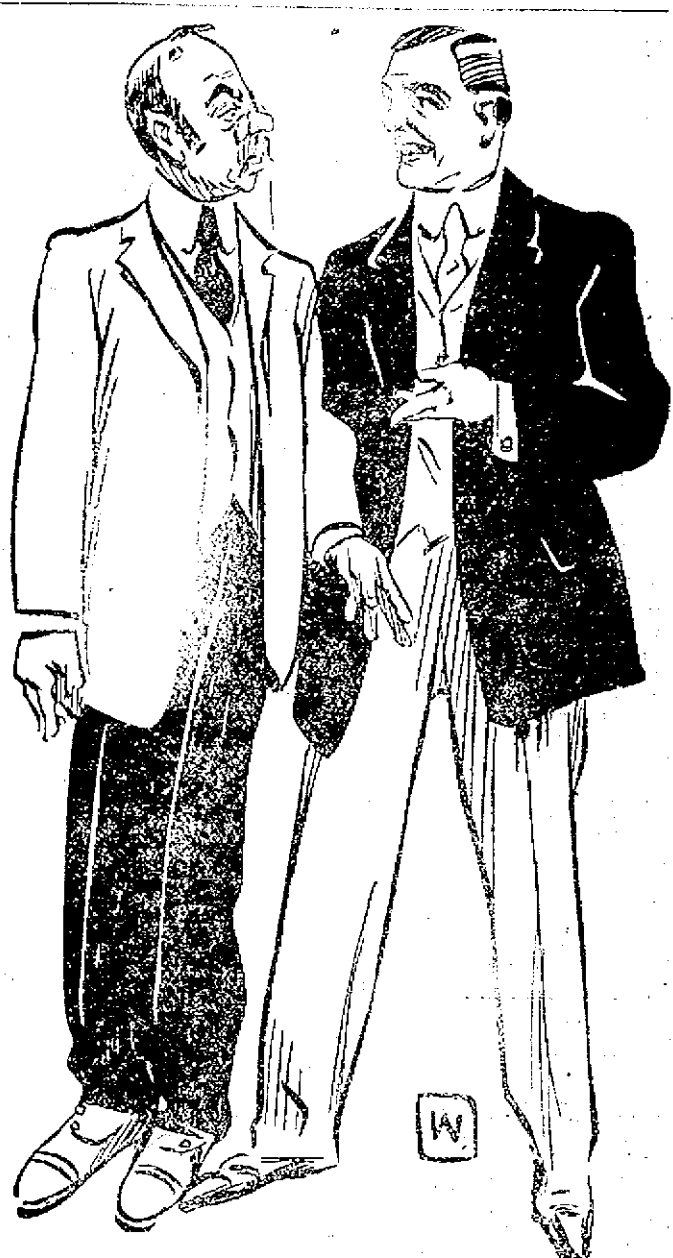

DID HE SEE THE POINT?

He (frightful bore)—Now, can I fetch you anything nice?
She (sassy)—Oh, thank you so much. I wish you would fetch me that tall, dark man I danced with before you and I had the last.

AN IMPRESSION.

"It is very difficult for a writer to make his words really felt," said the young man with the pensive manner.
"Yes," answered Miss Sweet, "but you have succeeded in doing so with me."

"Indeed?"
"A friend dropped one of your latest volumes the other day, and I was very much interested."

NOT NECESSARY.

"No excuse will serve in this matter, sir."
"How fortunate!"
"Why fortunate?"
"Because I have none to offer. Thanks for not requiring any."

EASILY TRACED.

MOTHER—I wonder from whom you inherit your talent as a sculptor, dear.
Her Son—Must be from you, mother. I've often heard you say father was just putty in your hands!

VISIBLE AGITATION.

"SPEAKING of a labor agitation," began the lazy reporter, "the worst in my experience."
"Was when some one asked you to do some actual work. I suppose," broke in the city editor, who knew his man.

NOTHING NEW.

Charley Footlights: "Why, Wing! What are you doing away out here? What's afoot now?"
Wright Wing (between his teeth): "Our entire company."

WOULD SEEM SO.

"No matter what you go to see a doctor about, he is bound to end on your lungs."
"How is that?"
"Well, he always makes you cough."

EVIDENTLY NOT.

"No," said the leading man, "I never pay attention to what the critics say."
"Ah," replied the dramatic editor, "then they have not been giving you favorable notices."

WHEN A GIRL.

Miss Sweet: "College graduates do not always marry."
Mr. Swift: "Well, when a girl has had a lot of money spent on her education it makes her not the least likely."

VERY POOR TASTE.

Lion: "This business makes me most awful sick lately."
Lioness: "What's the matter?"
Lion: "Oh, the man who puts his head in my mouth has struck a new
